Classic or Modern — Life Goes On

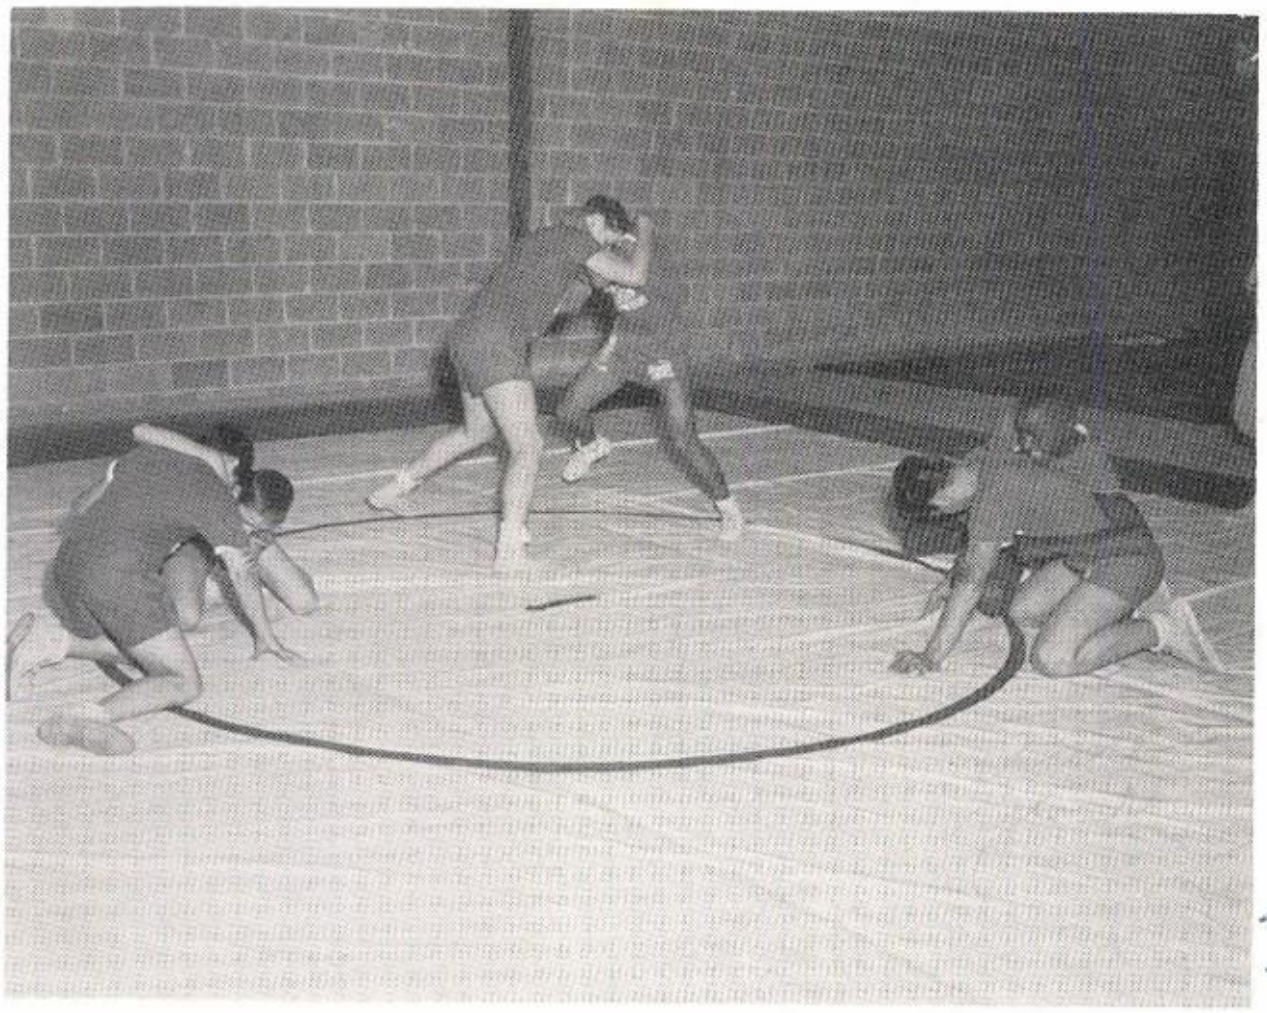
"Bloom Life" are the two words that symbolize all that Bloom stands for in teaching students how to enjoy their lives more fully. Bloom is a lively school. It has always been. In 1902 activities flourished because the student body was small and congenial. Lunch served in the basement of Old Bloom, basketball in the attic, social activities at the Victoria Hotel—these are the highlights of an alumnus's memories.

Studies in those days tended to be classical, stressing the teaching of languages, English, math, science, and fine arts, but they were seldom dull. Students and teachers collaborated in making the classes interesting.

Bloom is as active today as ever, judging by the picture on the opposite page. Although the enrollment has increased by more than forty times in the past fifty years, there is still a friendly and personal atmosphere here.

Studies today are varied from atomic physics to vocational machine shop. Bloom offers both academic and vocational studies in its curriculum. It is one of the few schools that has courses as different as fourth year agriculture and fourth year Latin. Bloom offers more than one hundred different courses. She also serves the entire community. Night courses in sewing, Americanization, business, and industrial education are available. Bloom's motto is an inspiring one, "Service and Loyalty."

Good Luck to a swell guy. I hope you get your leg machine soon
Best wishes
Bob Zuzzetti



Under close supervision these sophomore boys combine strength and know-how to outwrestle their opponents. Different types of take downs and escapes are taught during the three-week session that each class uses the wrestling room. Pairing off by weights, the boys get a chance to show their stuff in the relay events as well as in a regulation meet which follows the two-week instruction period.

Good Luck to a great shop student Sam Nola

New Facilities Broaden P.E. Scope

Something new in the way of gym equipment has made its appearance on the P. E. scene. These two trampolines became the center of attraction for classes lucky enough to use them. Here Bob Wendt doesn't appear disturbed at the possibility of falling off. Surrounding the trampoline are the "spotters" who prevent dangerous spills.

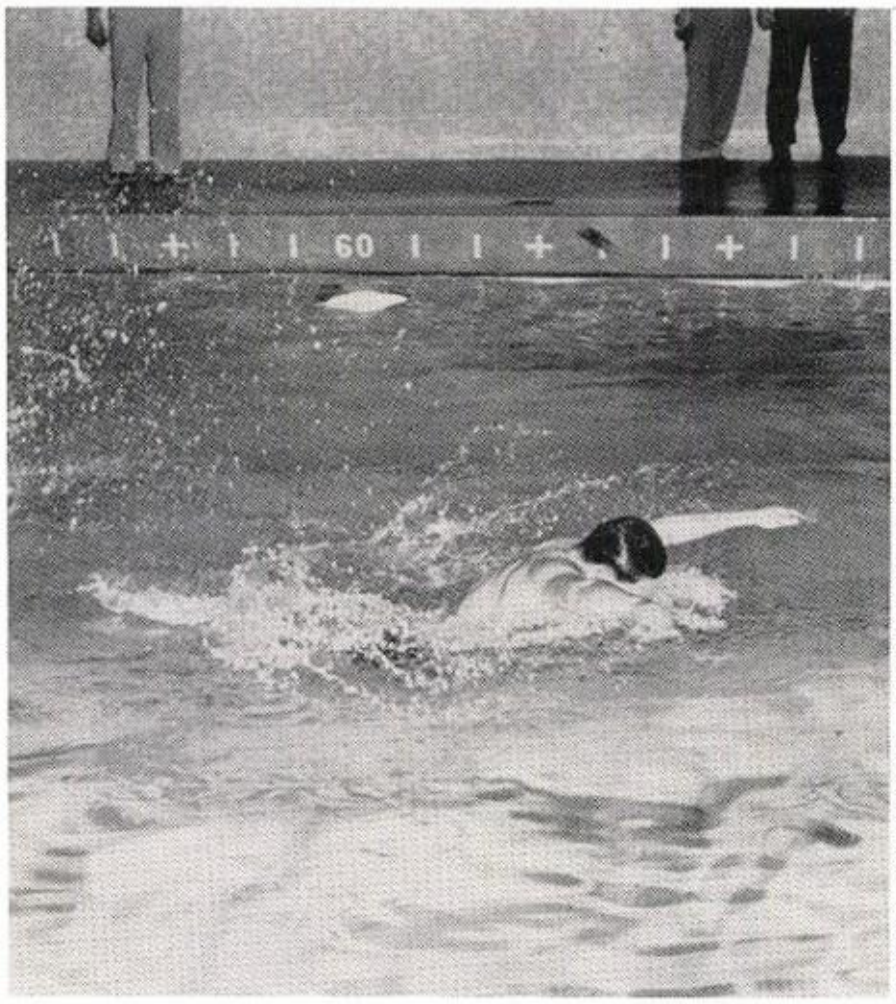
Cafeteria is Hub of Student Life

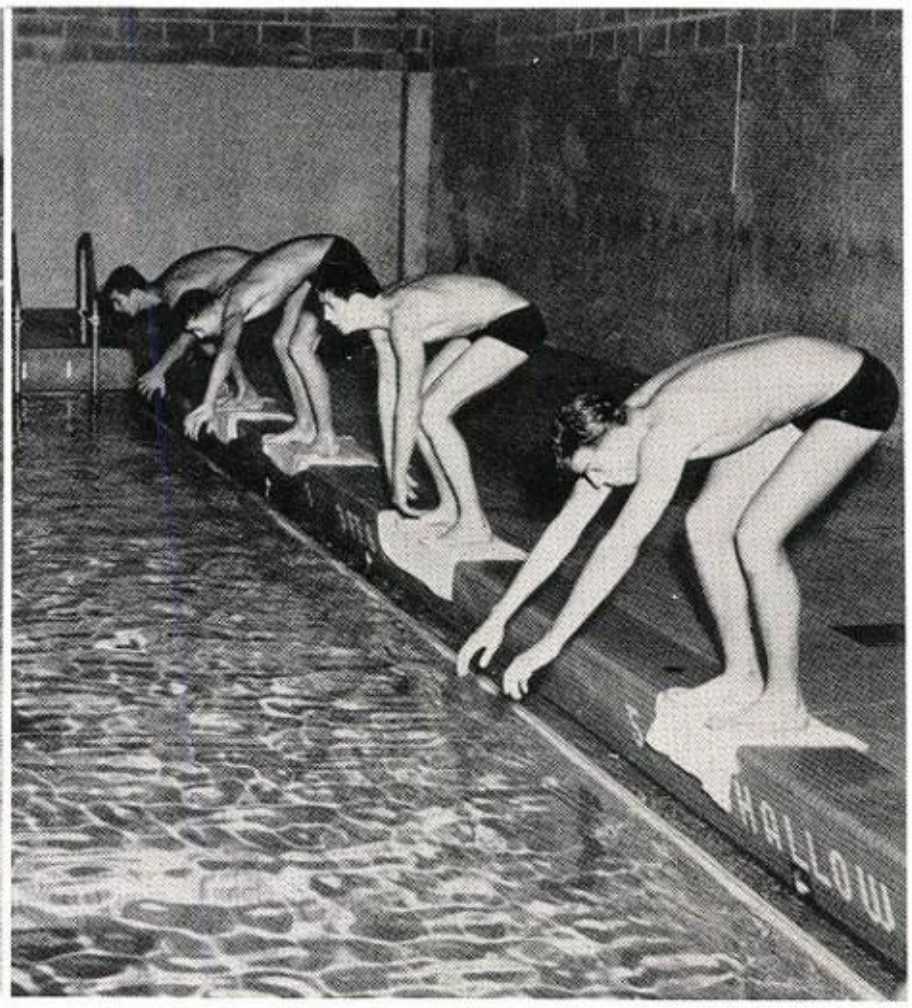
With the most up-to-date kitchen facilities available, the new cafeteria swings into high gear during the three half hour periods that it serves the gigantic student body. Whether you want a complete hot dinner, soups and sandwiches, or just milk and potato chips, your needs are quickly filled.

The cafeteria is also the scene of many social events during the year. By removing the tables and chairs and substituting some fancy decorations the lunch hour atmosphere disappears. Add the soft musical strains of a dance band, and you have before you a modern ballroom. Because of its size, the cafeteria is in almost constant use as a study hall or as a testing area on special occasions.

A wholesome variety of food is offered and from the above picture it is easy to see that most people find it hard to make a choice. To the left is the cafeteria scene which will bring back memories; memories of friends, food, and relaxation.

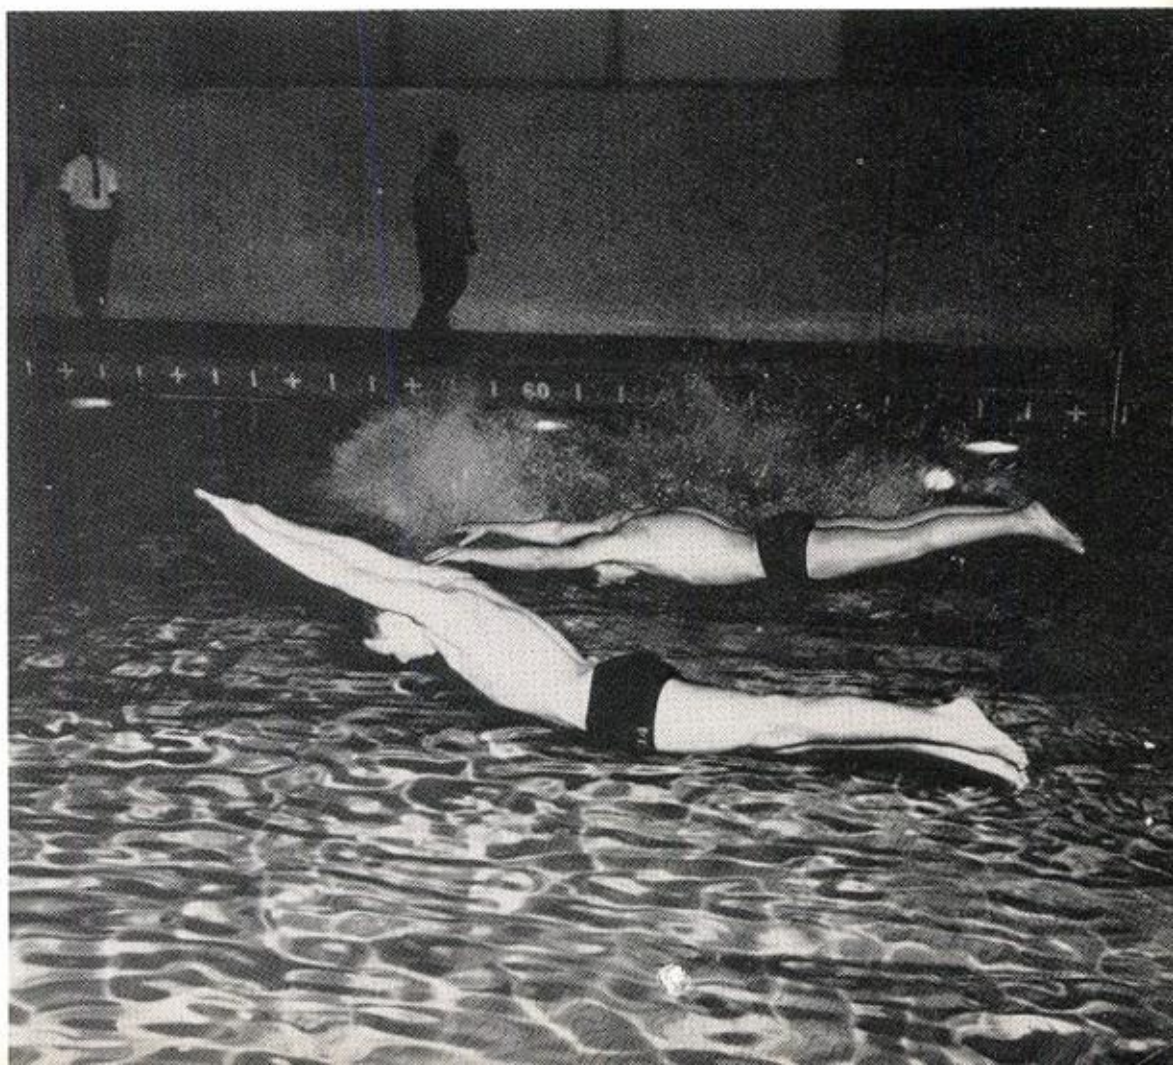


There are just fifteen yards left in the lap for Fred Washburn!



Dave Gifford, Gary Gardner, and two Fractional swimmers await the signal from coach Zeschke and his gun.

Swimming Pool Delights All

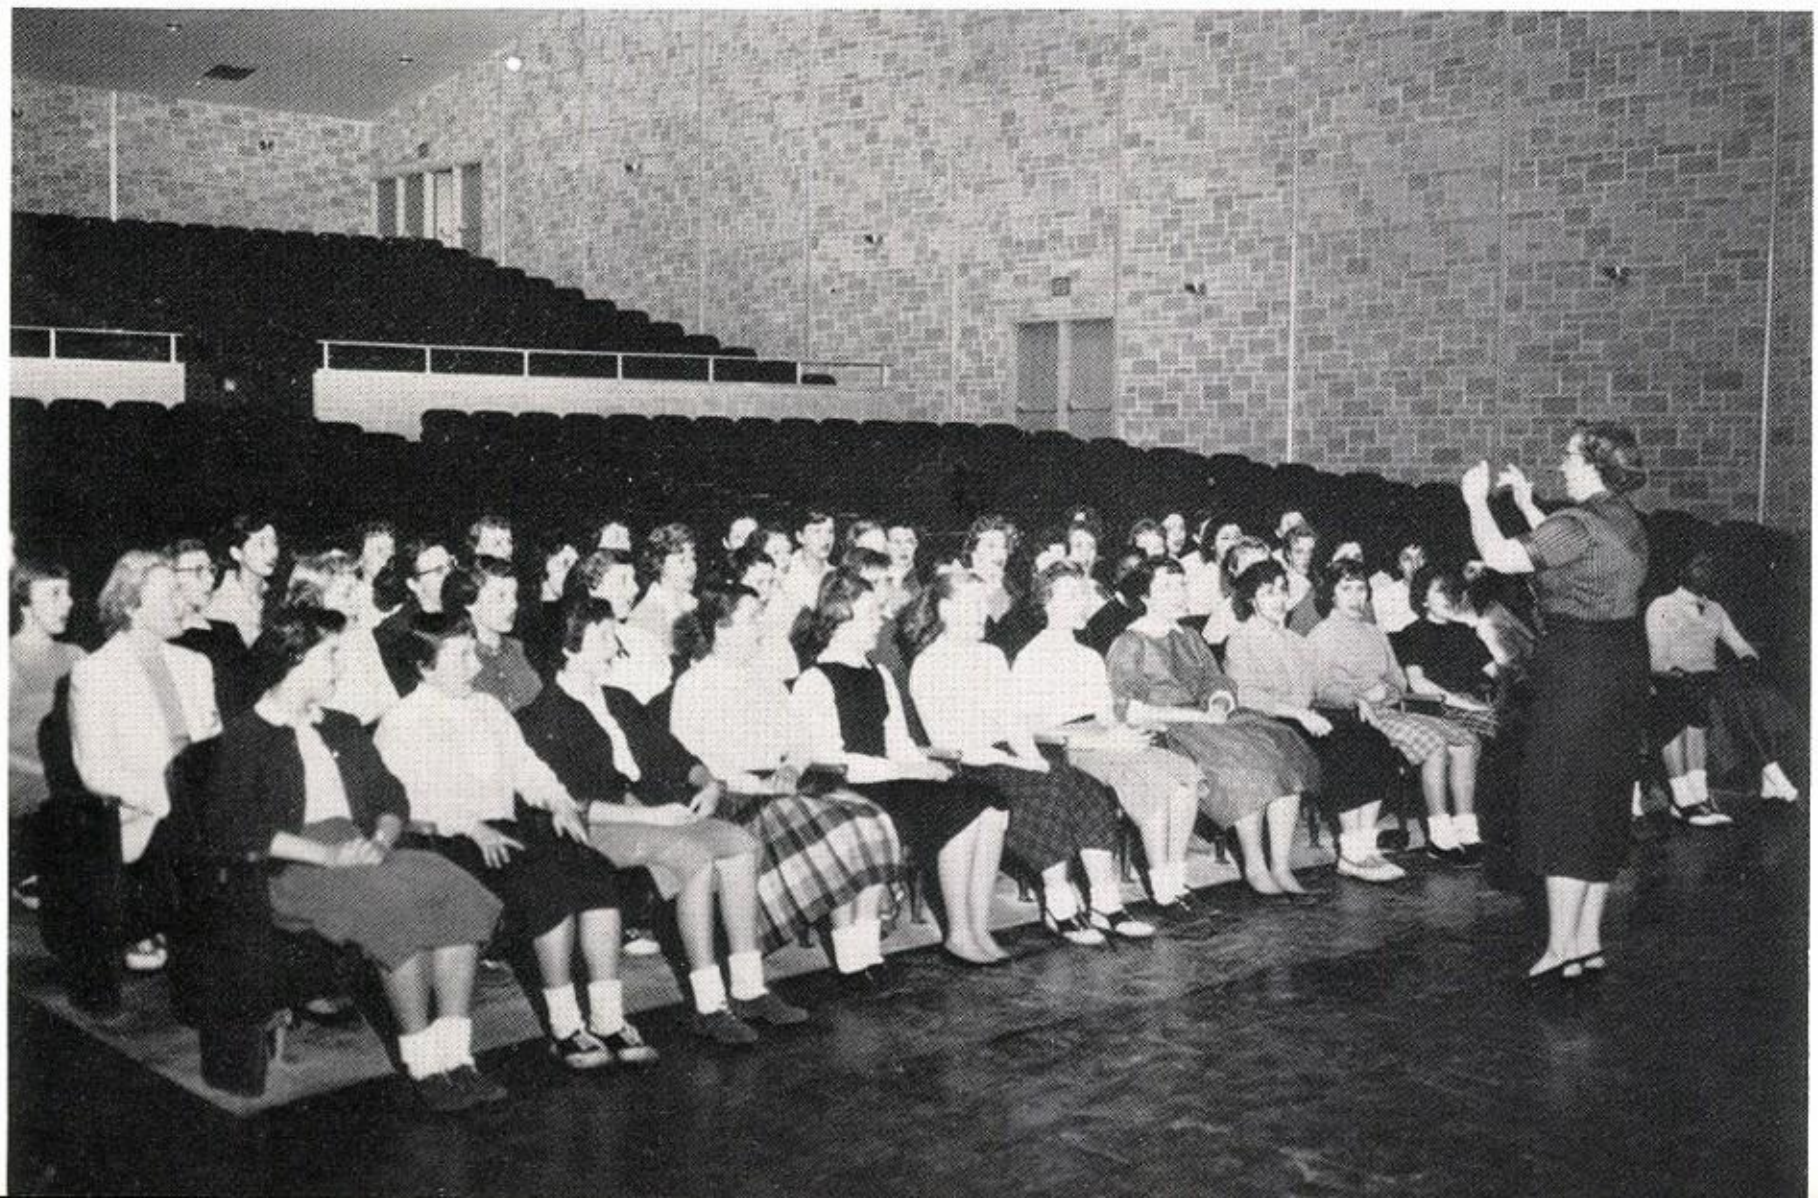


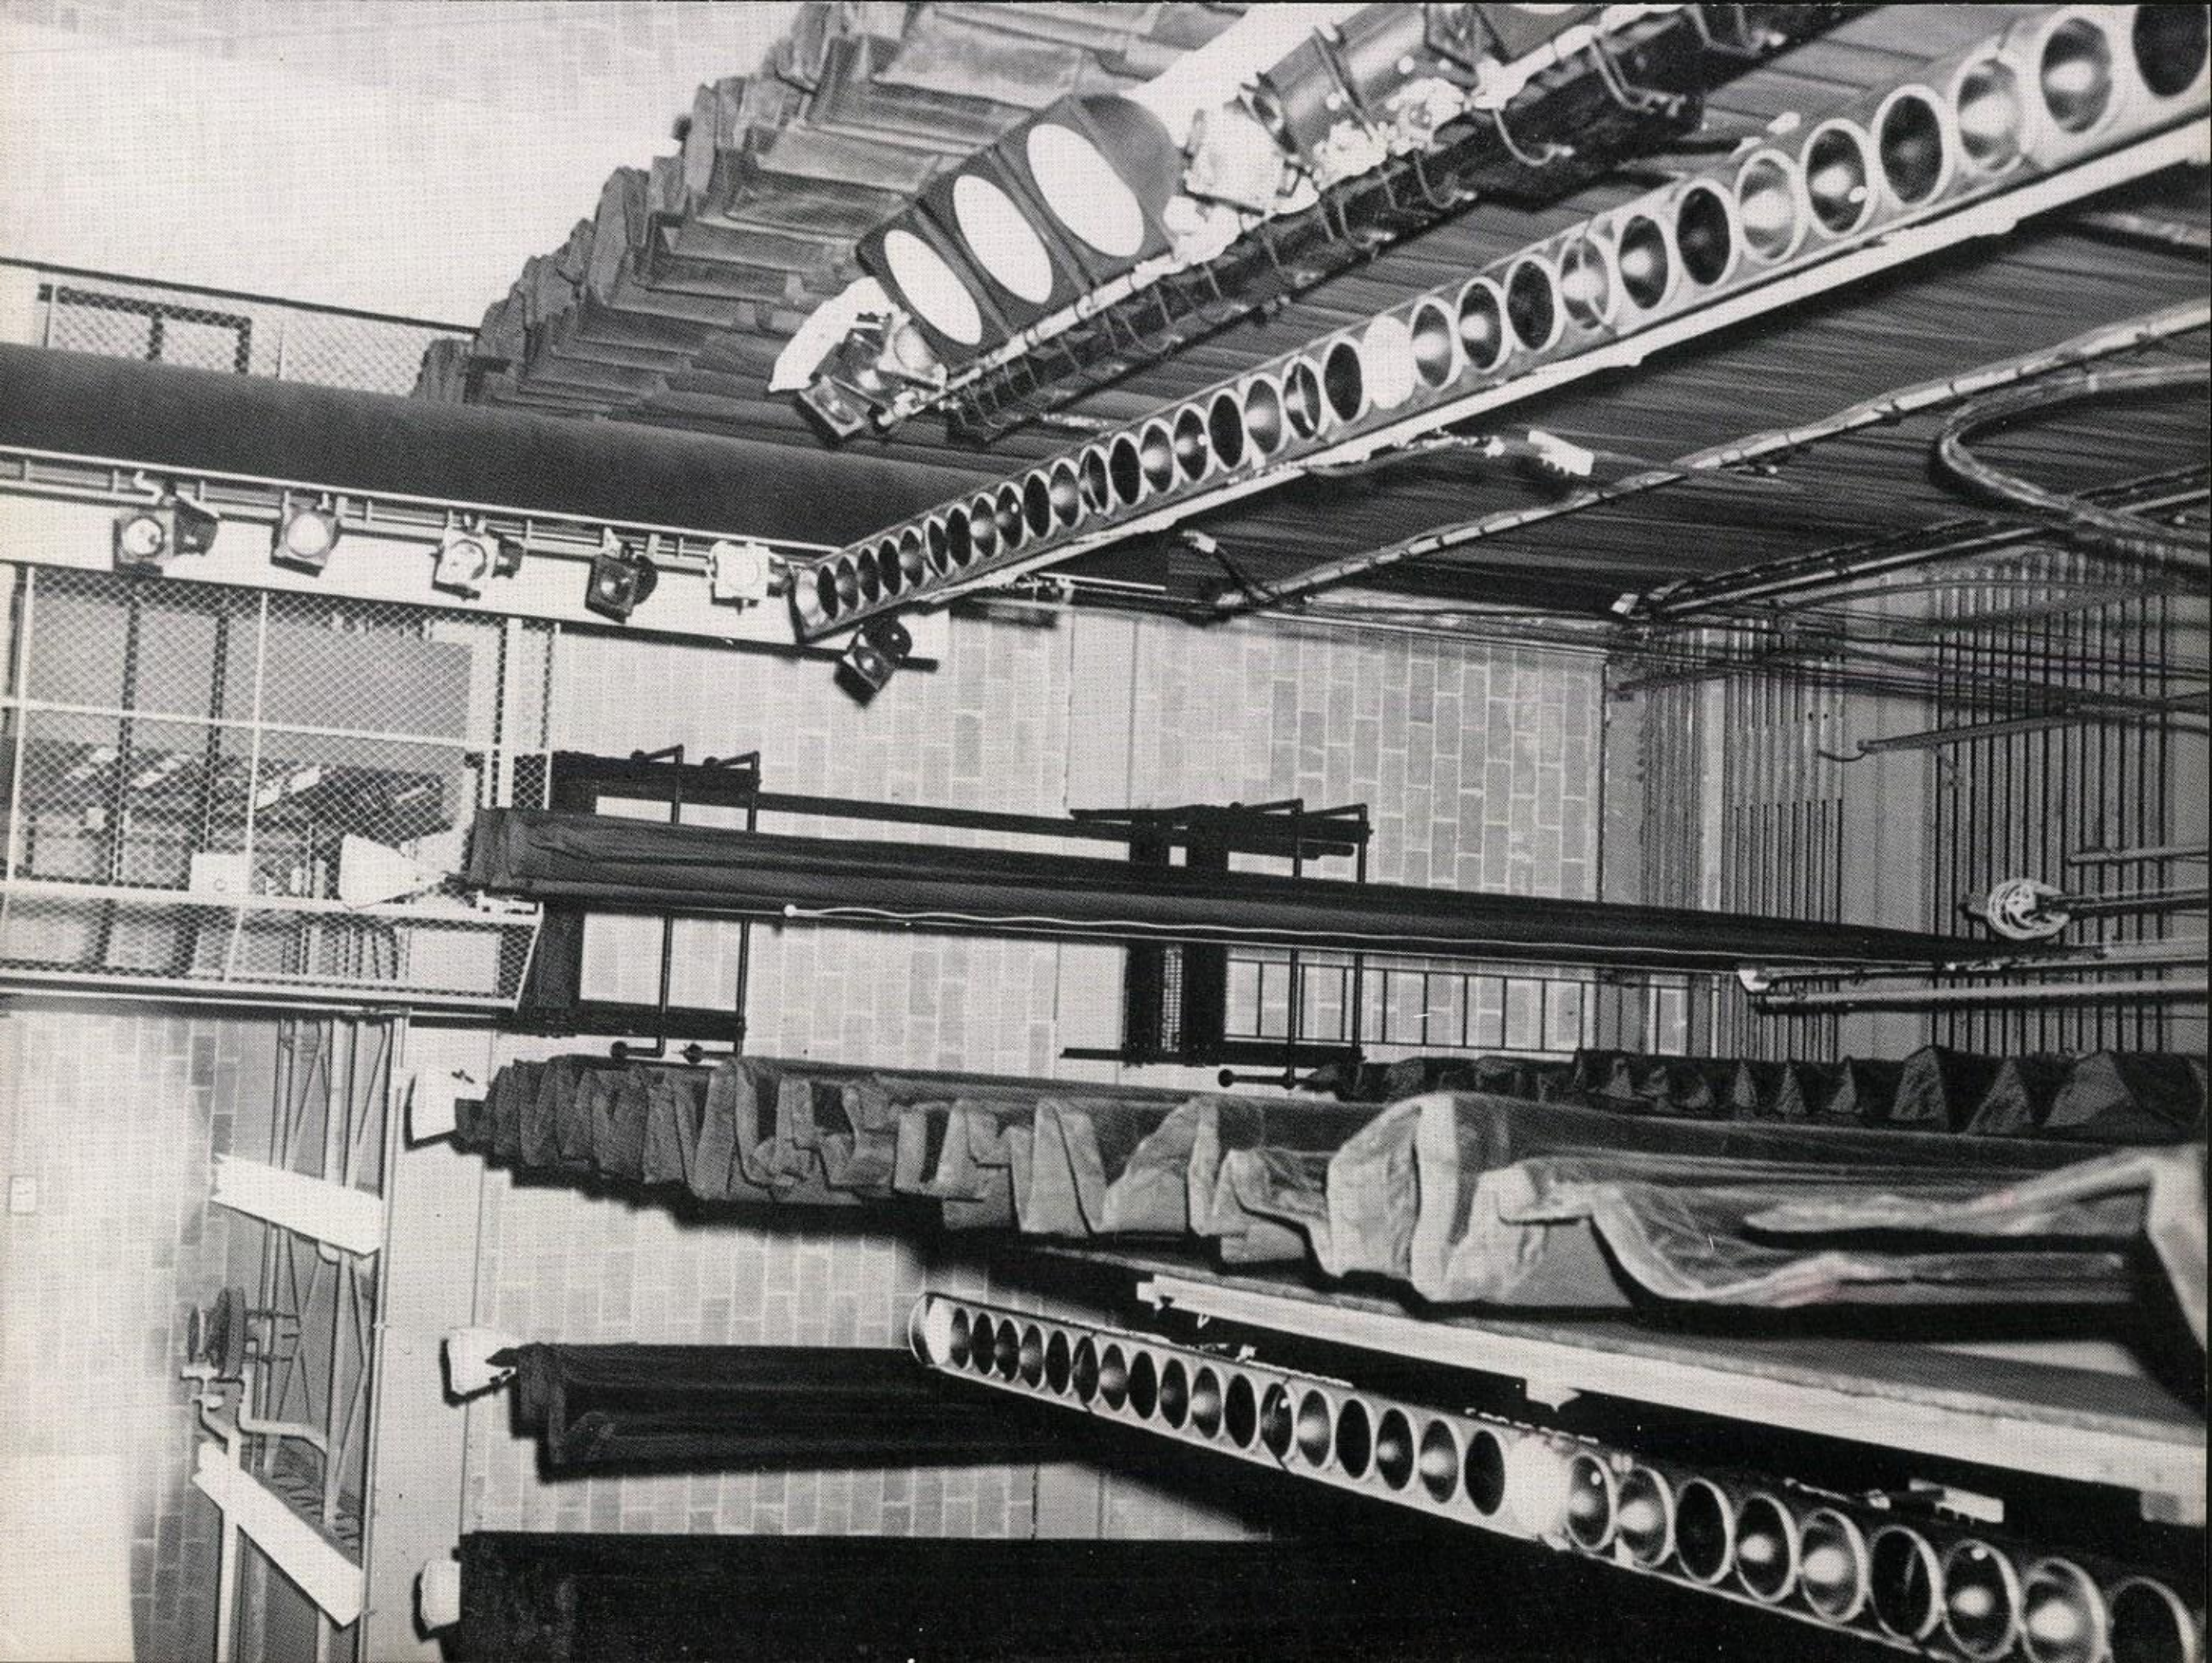
Two Fractional swimmers start just fractions of a second behind their opponents.

This is the scene in the auditorium near the first of the year. Workmen struggle to get the seats in and the "extras" in before the dedication.

Auditorium Highlights Construction Program

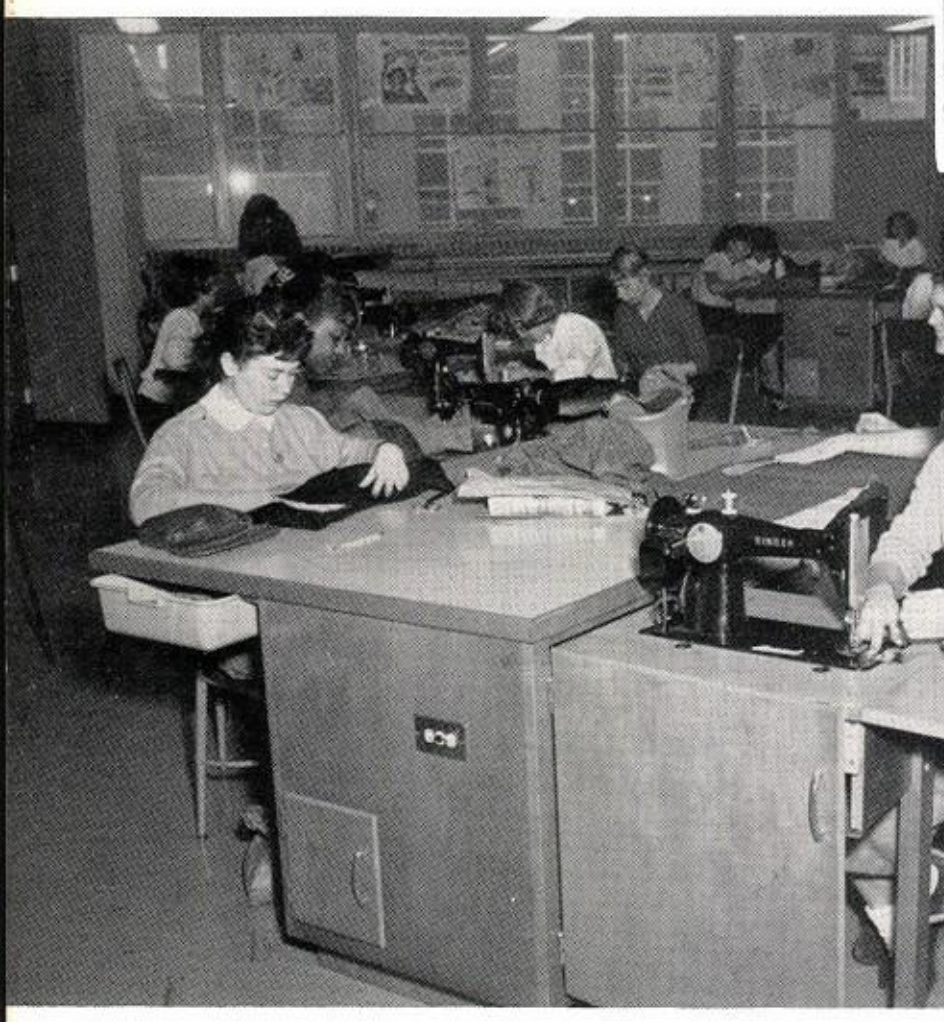
Here is the auditorium after the workmen left. Miss Jean Pavy wasted no time as she brought her girls' choir in to practice.





Pots and Pans Flourish in Home Ec

If the quickest way to a man's heart is through his stomach, then these senior girls are off on the right foot. Here Janice Dalesandro, Judy Petricek, and Penny Lale learn the fundamentals of boiling water, the first lesson of creative cookery. With the latest in kitchen equipment available, the two cooking laboratories soon become the testing place for the latest casseroles, conglomerations and concoctions.



Girls in Stitches

The future homemakers of this sewing class prove that "a stitch in time saves nine." Besides saving nine, the learned stitcher can turn out skirts and blouses in the latest styles. The products of a modern sewing machine have that "storebought" look and that "homemade" price.

Eyes popped and jaws dropped when the upperclassmen returned to school in September only to find that the old cafeteria, once the center of attraction during the noon hour, had been converted into a bright and modern business education department. Many were happy to find that their program for the coming year included a course which would allow them to make good use of this new addition. Some such courses include business training, business law, typewriting, bookkeeping, consumer education, and shorthand. Quite a bit of college work involves the use of a typewriter, and for this reason boys as well as girls are acquiring typing skill. To the right a class works diligently to complete the warm-up exercises. Below, Miss Ellen Chapman gives instructions in the use of comptometers.

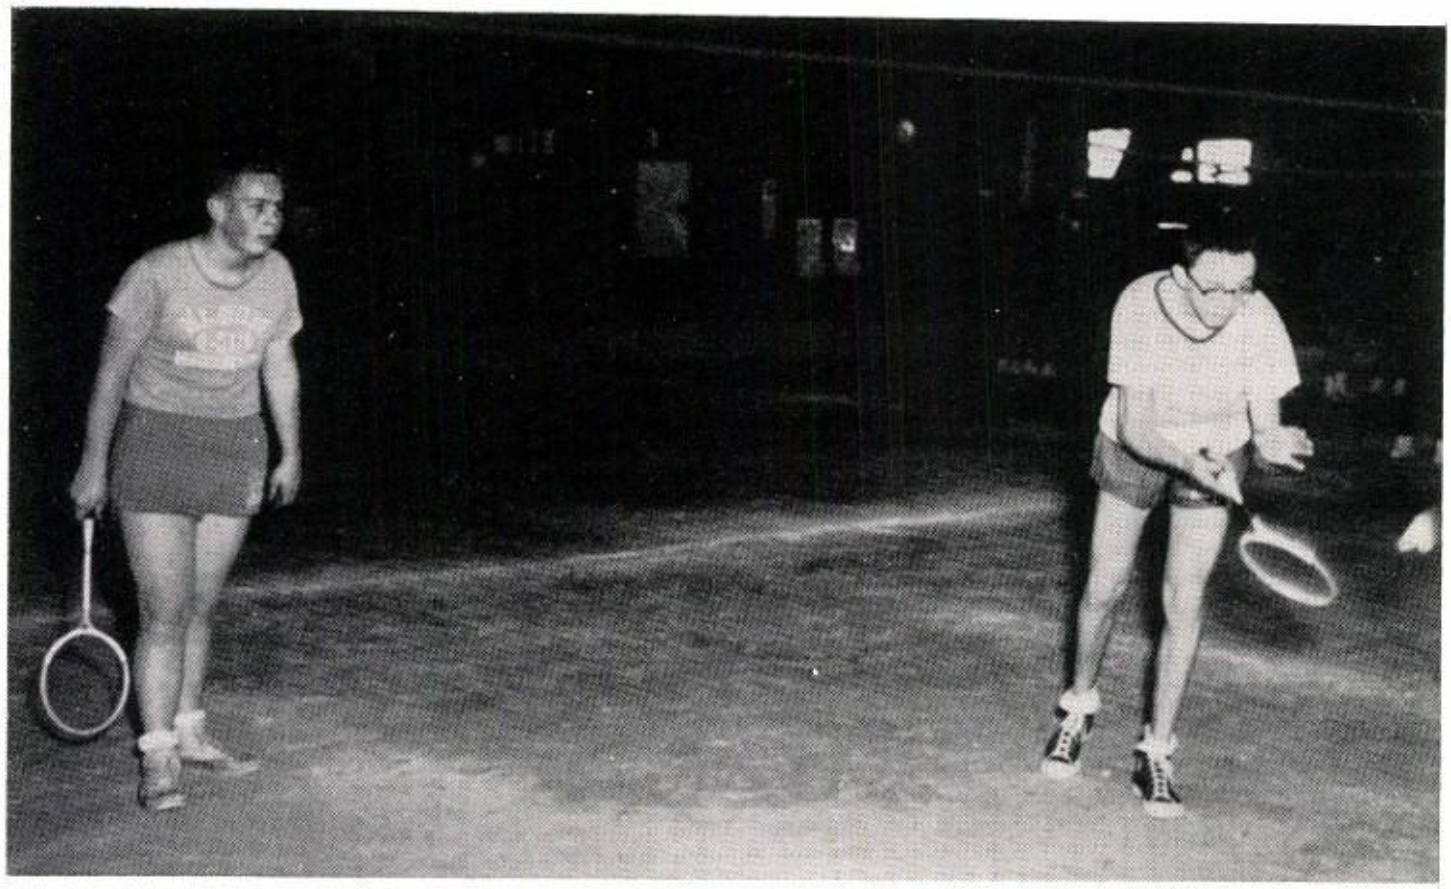
Old Cafe Takes On New Look

This panel comprised of University of Illinois students gave the juniors and seniors an idea of what life on a big college campus was really like.

Little Theater Used for Lectures

Earlier in the year, all social studies classes attended a lecture concerning the Illinois Indians and the early settlers of the mid-west. Here a group of seniors get a close-up view of a tribal mask.

On the list of the new additions one of the first projects completed was the little theater. Looks of surprise were not uncommon when many found that their daily schedule called for a study hall in this miniature auditorium. "What in the world is the little theater?" was the usual question. Those who found out were soon rewarded with the pleasure of sitting back and relaxing in the plush green cushion chairs, enjoying the serene quietness of a study hall, listening to a guest speaker, sitting in on a panel discussion, or becoming engrossed in a Dramatics club producton. The little theater gave those who had an opportunity to use it an idea of what could be expected as the new auditorium neared completion.

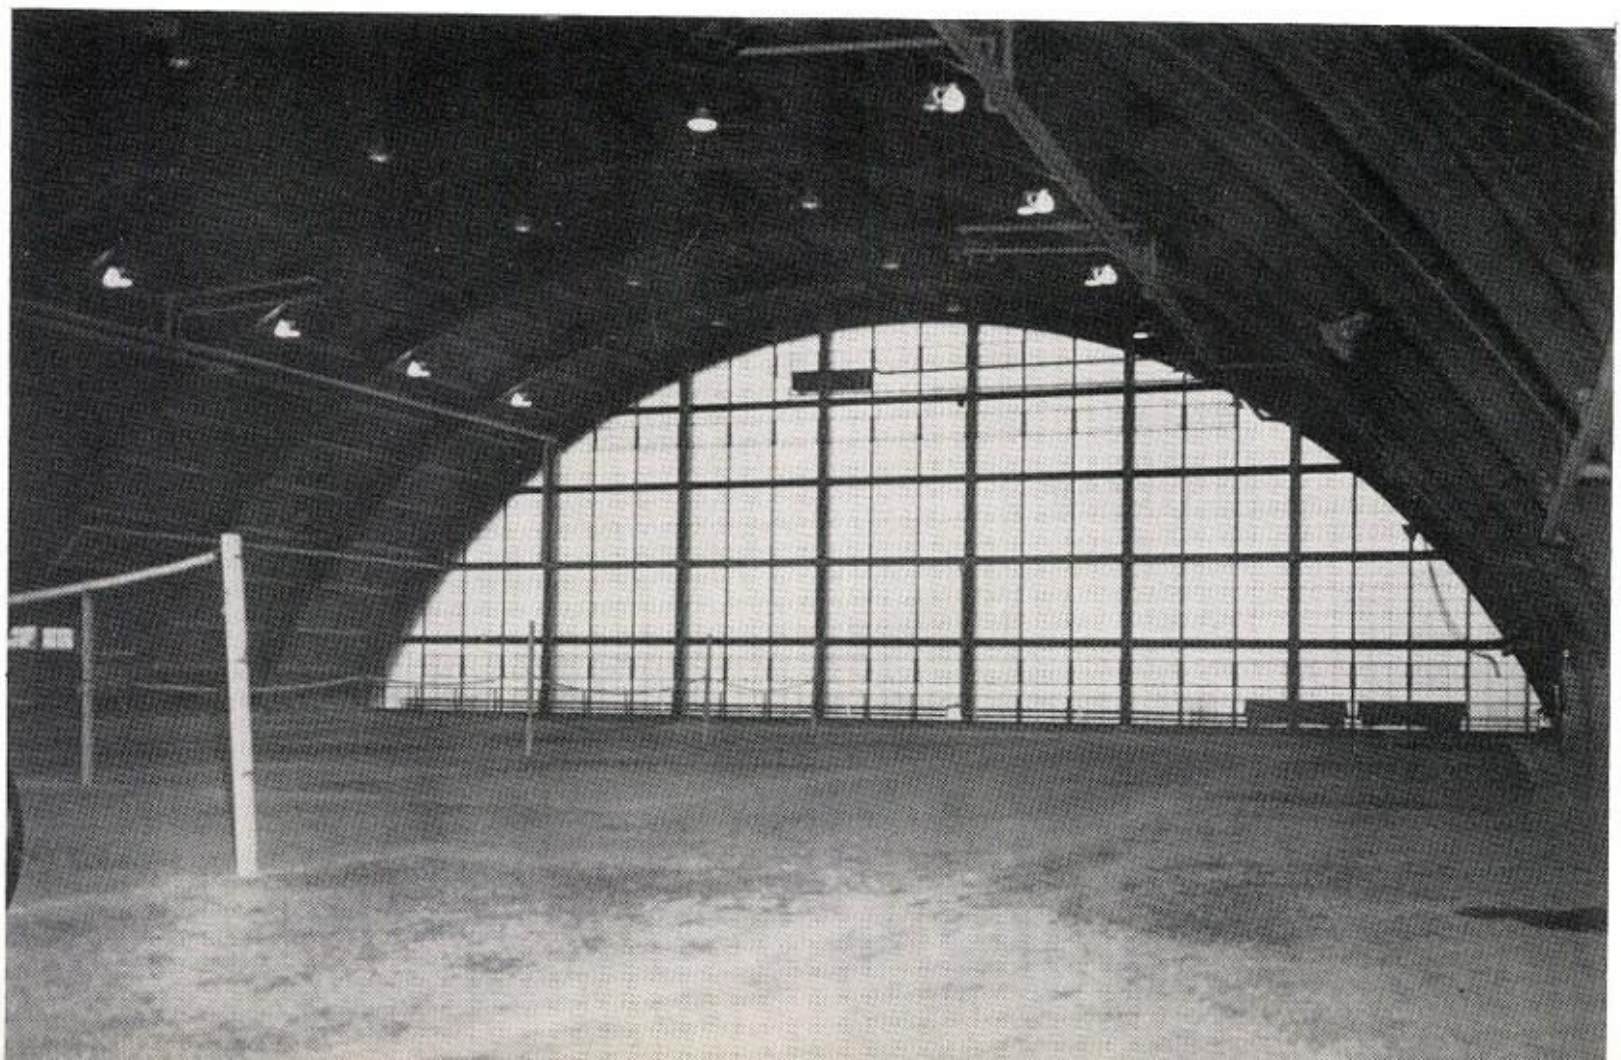


Bill Motlong anxiously waits his turn to return a volley as Paul Ashley serves.

The fieldhouse was one of the first additions to the school to be finished. It is also one of the most heavily used sections, with facilities for about one hundred students to use it simultaneously.

Physical education classes may use it for badminton, track and field events, volleyball, and roadwork. The football, track and baseball teams can also hold practice during bad weather on the imported Kentucky clay courts.

Fieldhouse Features Clay Courts



The fieldhouse in one of its rare moments of solitude between periods.

The music and arts wing includes two floors of specially constructed rooms. The music section has large, sound-treated rooms used for extensive study in orchestra, band, and voice, along with a number of small rooms used for individual practice. In a corridor of this wing art students can be seen taking time out from a class to help with a school project.

A Time For Self-Expression . . . and Creativity

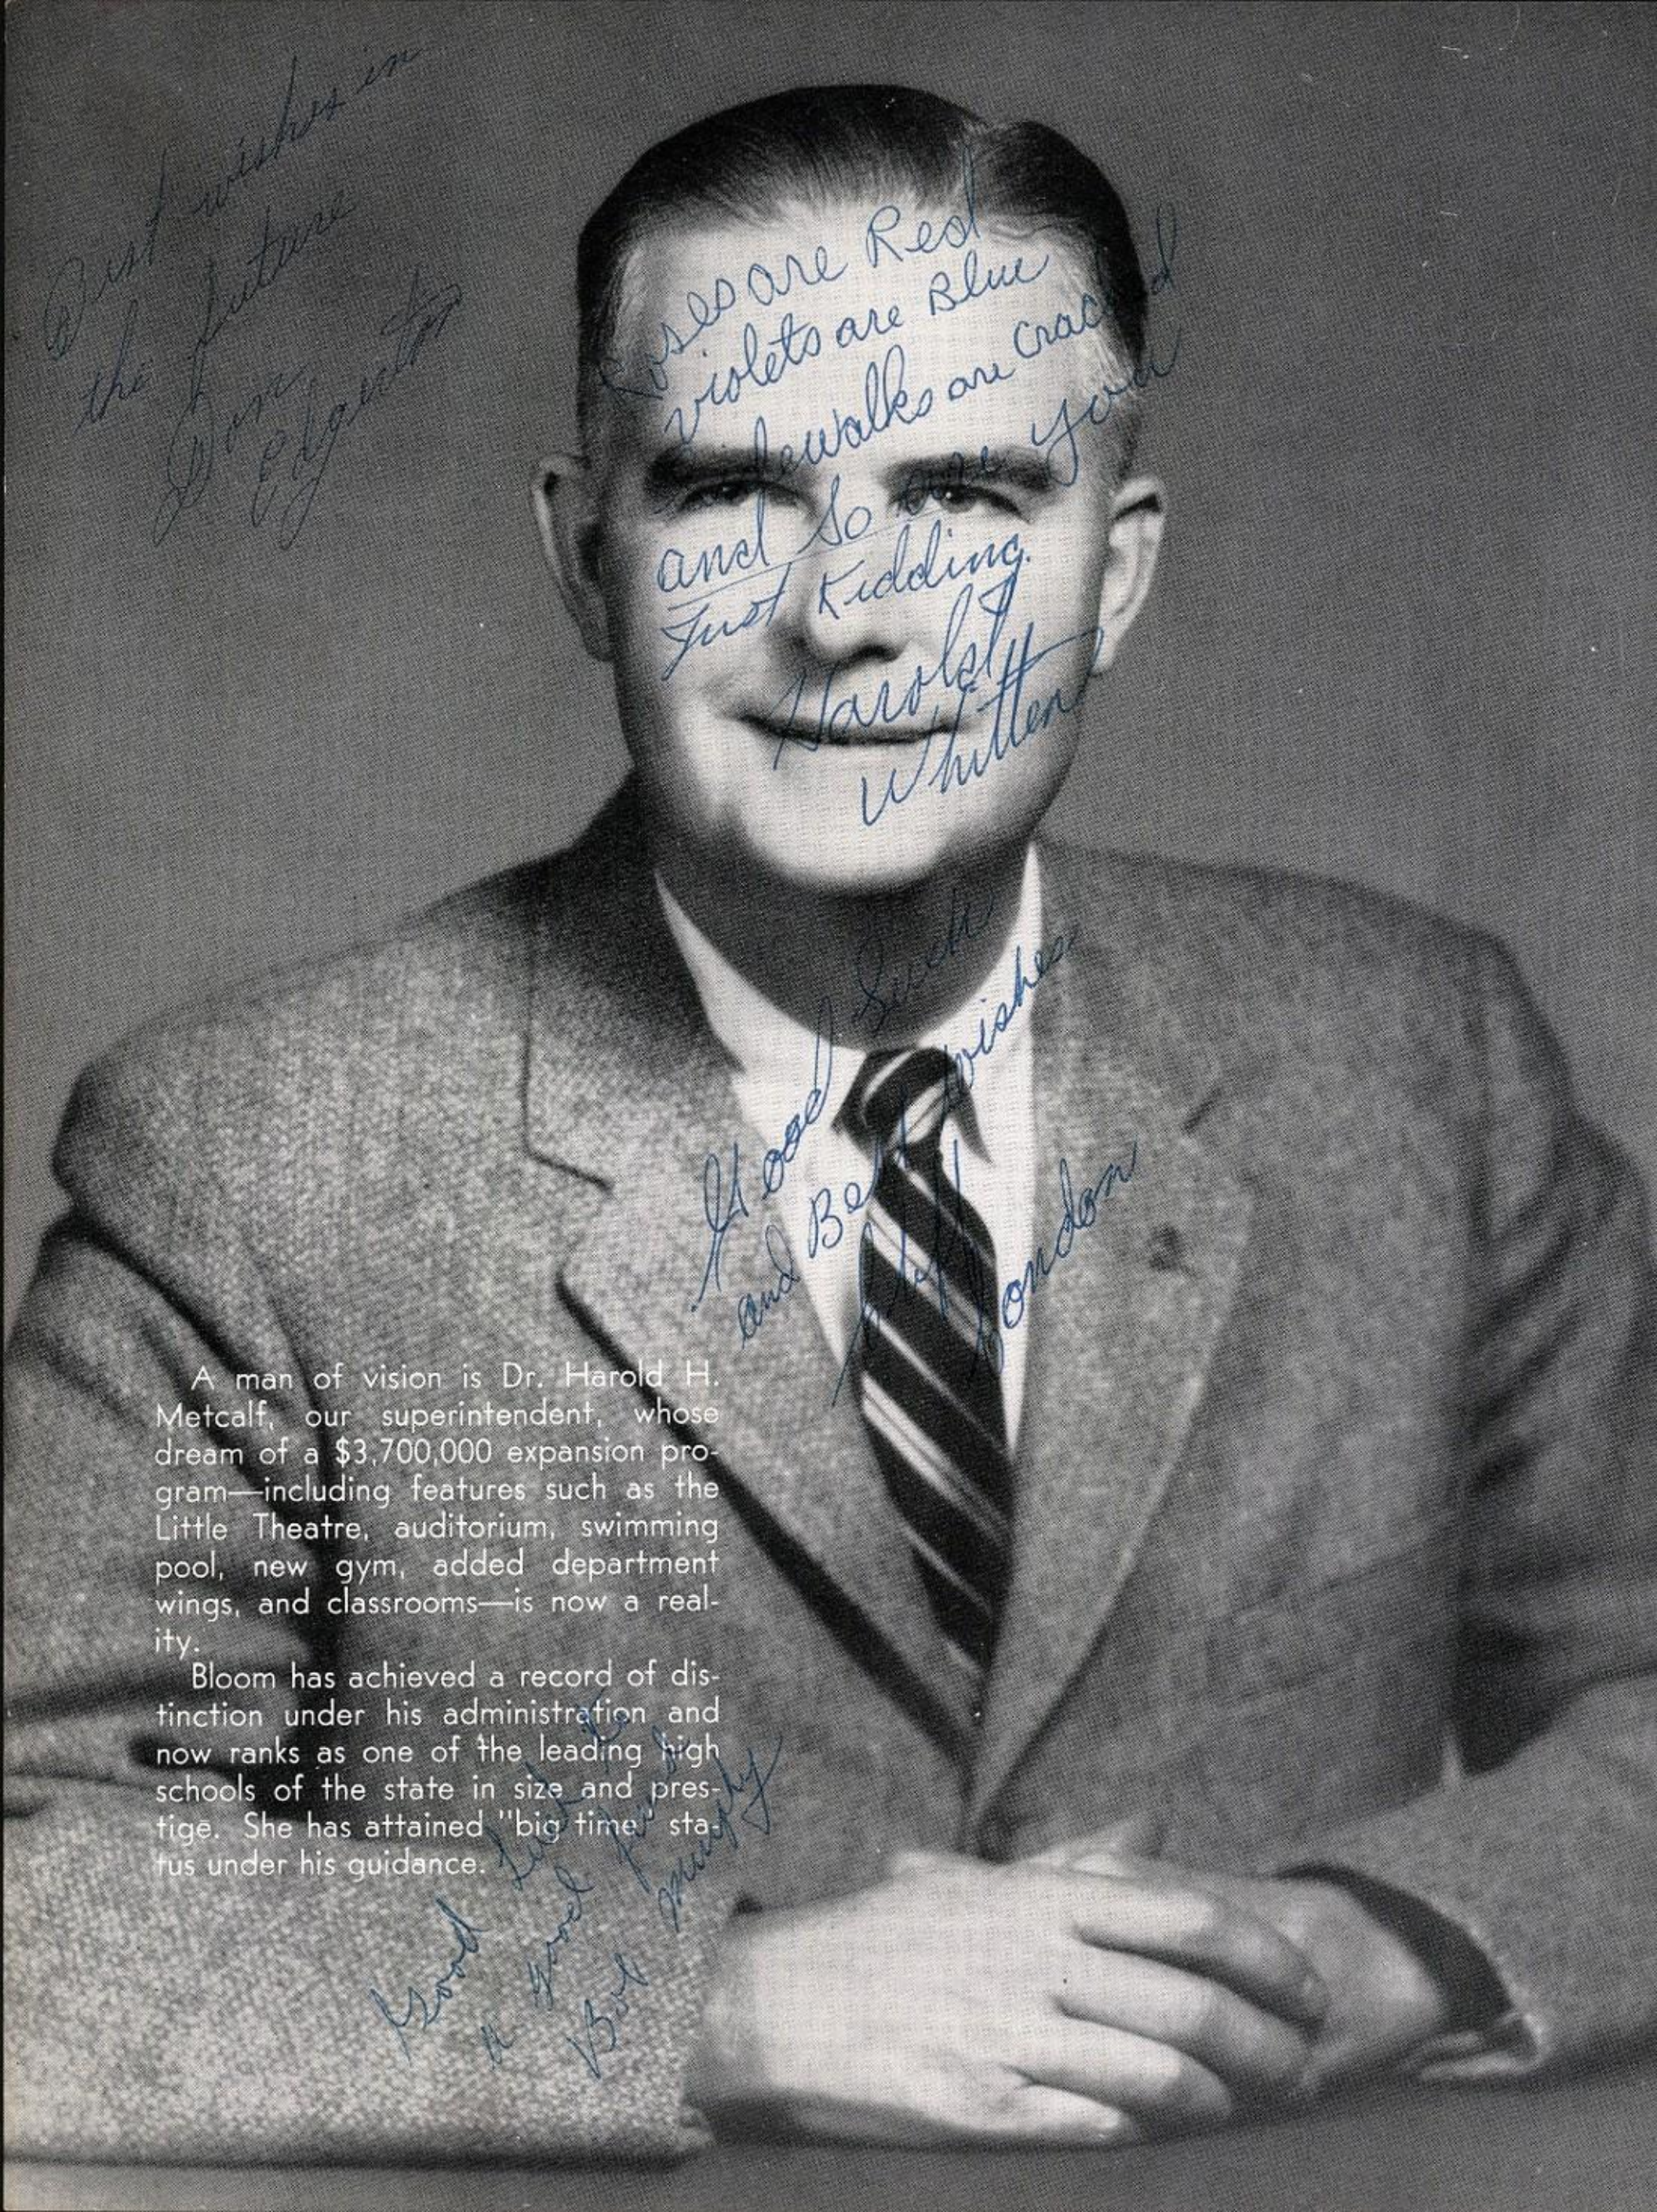
As these colorful paper mache masks roll off the assembly line, the surprised expression of some students are worth a thousand words. In the three room art suite, one can experiment with a variety of art materials. Special skills are developed in lettering, design, silk screen painting, weaving, still life and figure painting in oils, and simple sculpture.

On the second floor, high above the cafeteria, sits the faculty lounge and cafeteria. Here in peace and quiet, at least for twenty-five minutes a day the busy teachers may snatch a moment's rest from the hordes of students each faces daily.

In an attractive cafeteria furnished in brass and wrought iron, Miss Theobald, Mrs. Meliza, Mrs. Thoeming, Miss Haworth, and Mrs. Crane dine.

Teachers Find Haven Over Cafeteria

Mr. Consenza, Mr. Tory, Miss Baldwin, and Mr. Zeschke relax before the magazine rack.



A man of vision is Dr. Harold H. Metcalf, our superintendent, whose dream of a $3,700,000 expansion program—including features such as the Little Theatre, auditorium, swimming pool, new gym, added department wings, and classrooms—is now a reality.

Bloom has achieved a record of distinction under his administration and now ranks as one of the leading high schools of the state in size and prestige. She has attained "big time" status under his guidance.

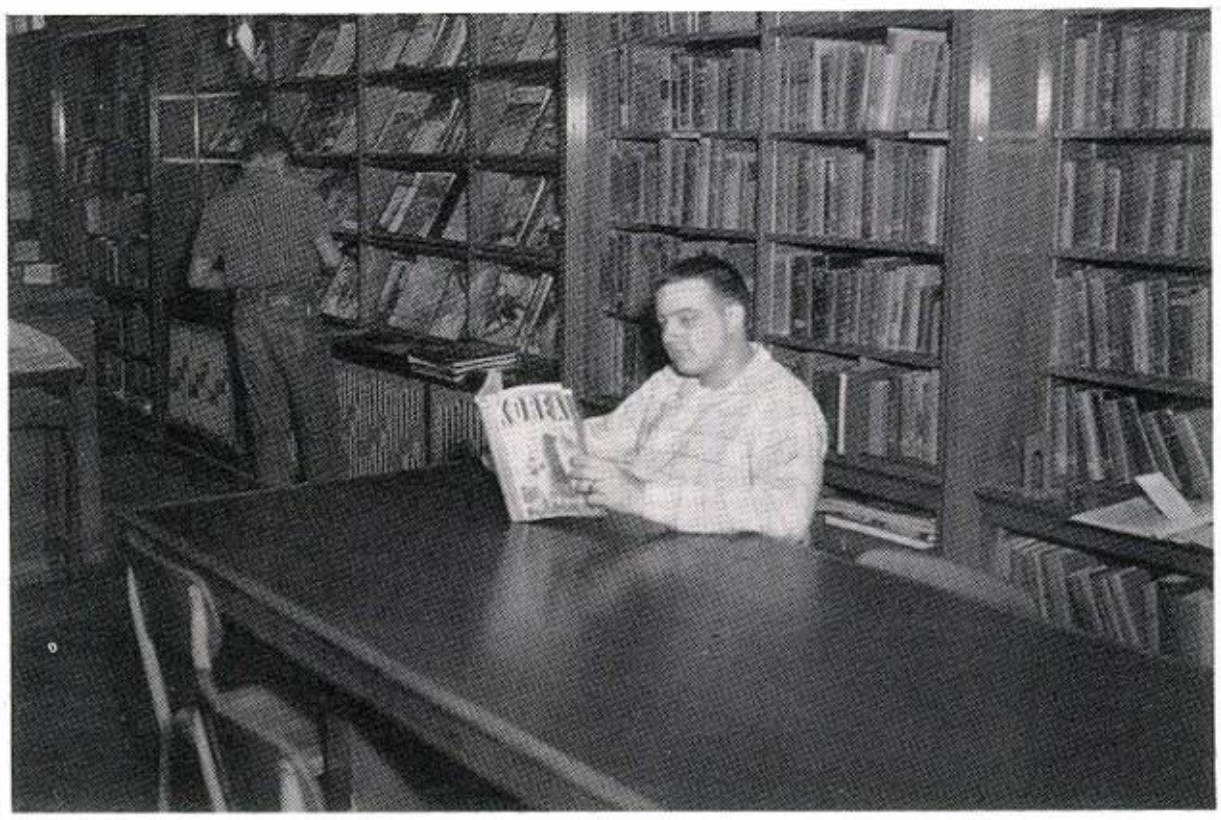
With everything from John Quincy Adams to Madam Zorri, the card catalogue fails only when the book you're looking for is "Twenty-five Abridged Novels for High School Literature" The next best thing is to search the file as Fred Fabricant and Keith Lawler are doing to find the shortest book.

Library Supplements Work

To escape the noise and confusion of the day's activities, most people take refuge in the library. Here, browsing through an endless number of books, you can gather information for an overdue term paper or you can follow the example of Phil Harper and relax with literature telling of strange and exciting far-away places.



Tape recordings, films, and slides are synonomous with Mr. Franklin Miller's English classes. An eye-witness account of the Indianapolis "500" featuring original films and tape recordings was the high-point of the year's special projects. Here Charles Patti, Larry Newman, and Mary Petreikis prepare to "enlighten" the class with recordings of Carl Sandburg's poetry.

of English Department

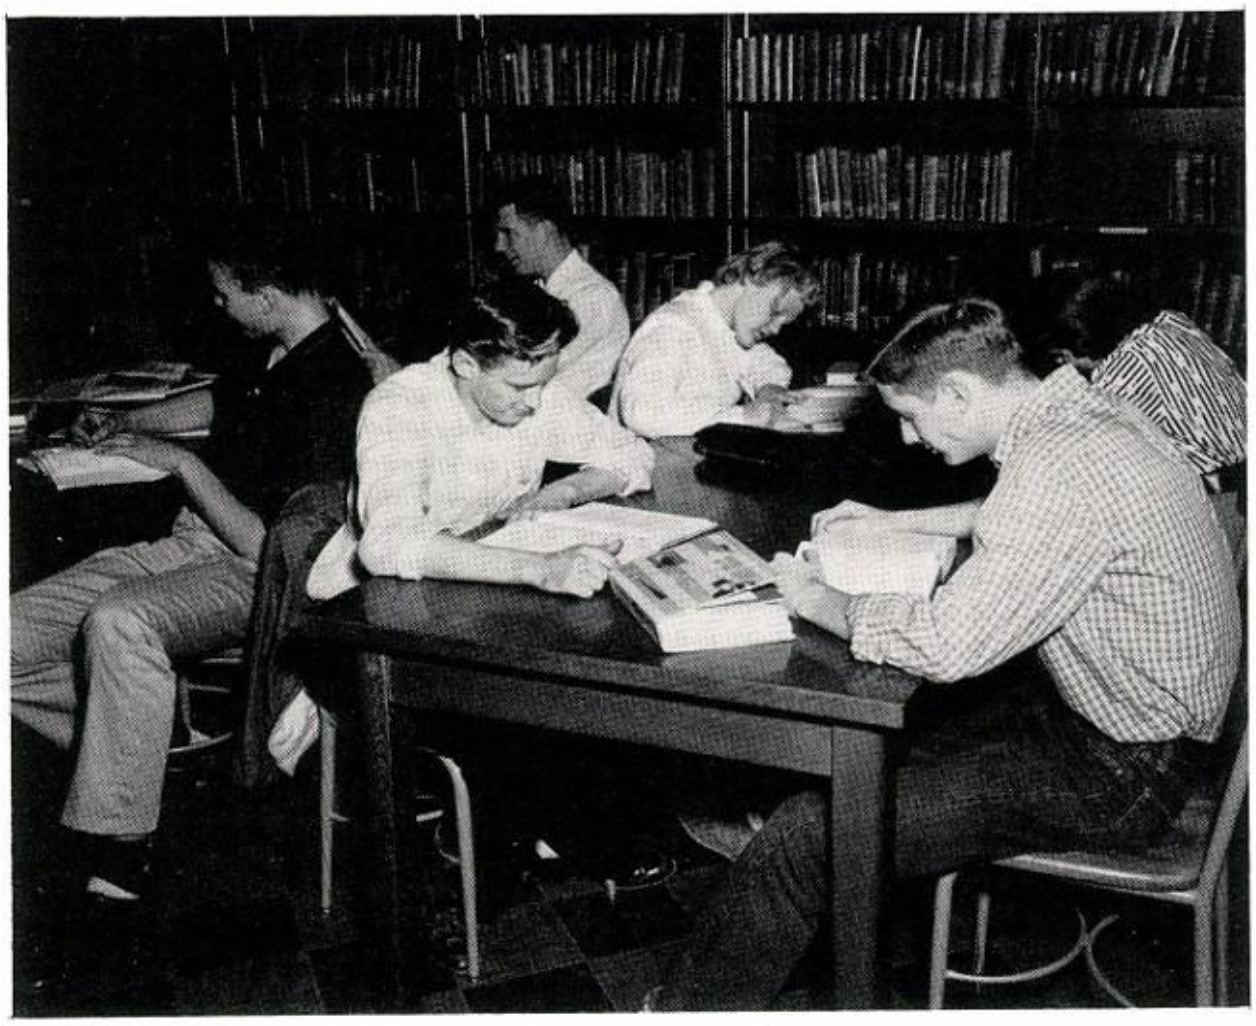
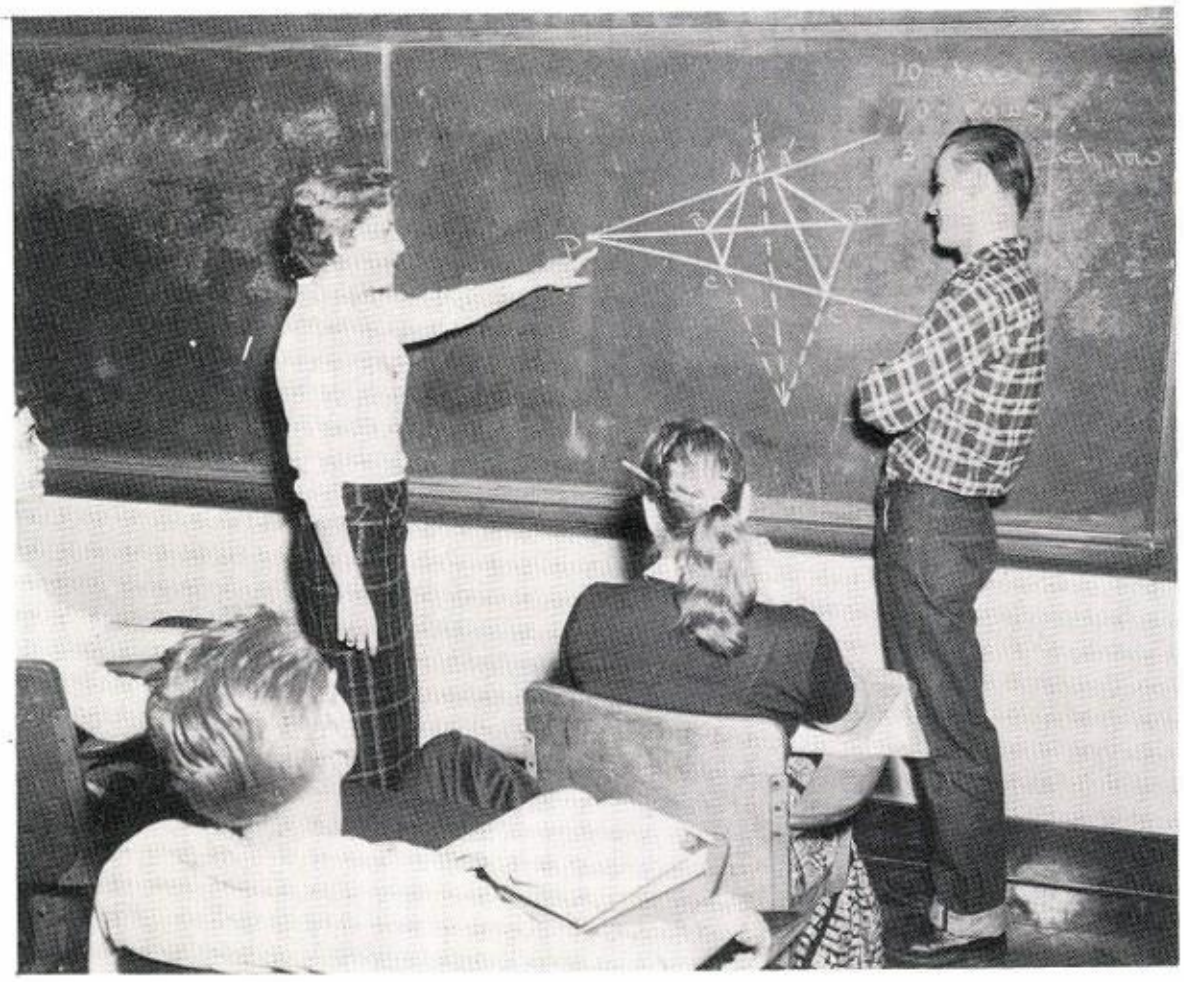
Into every life a little grammar must fall. It seems to hit you the hardest in the third year as these studious juniors can testify.



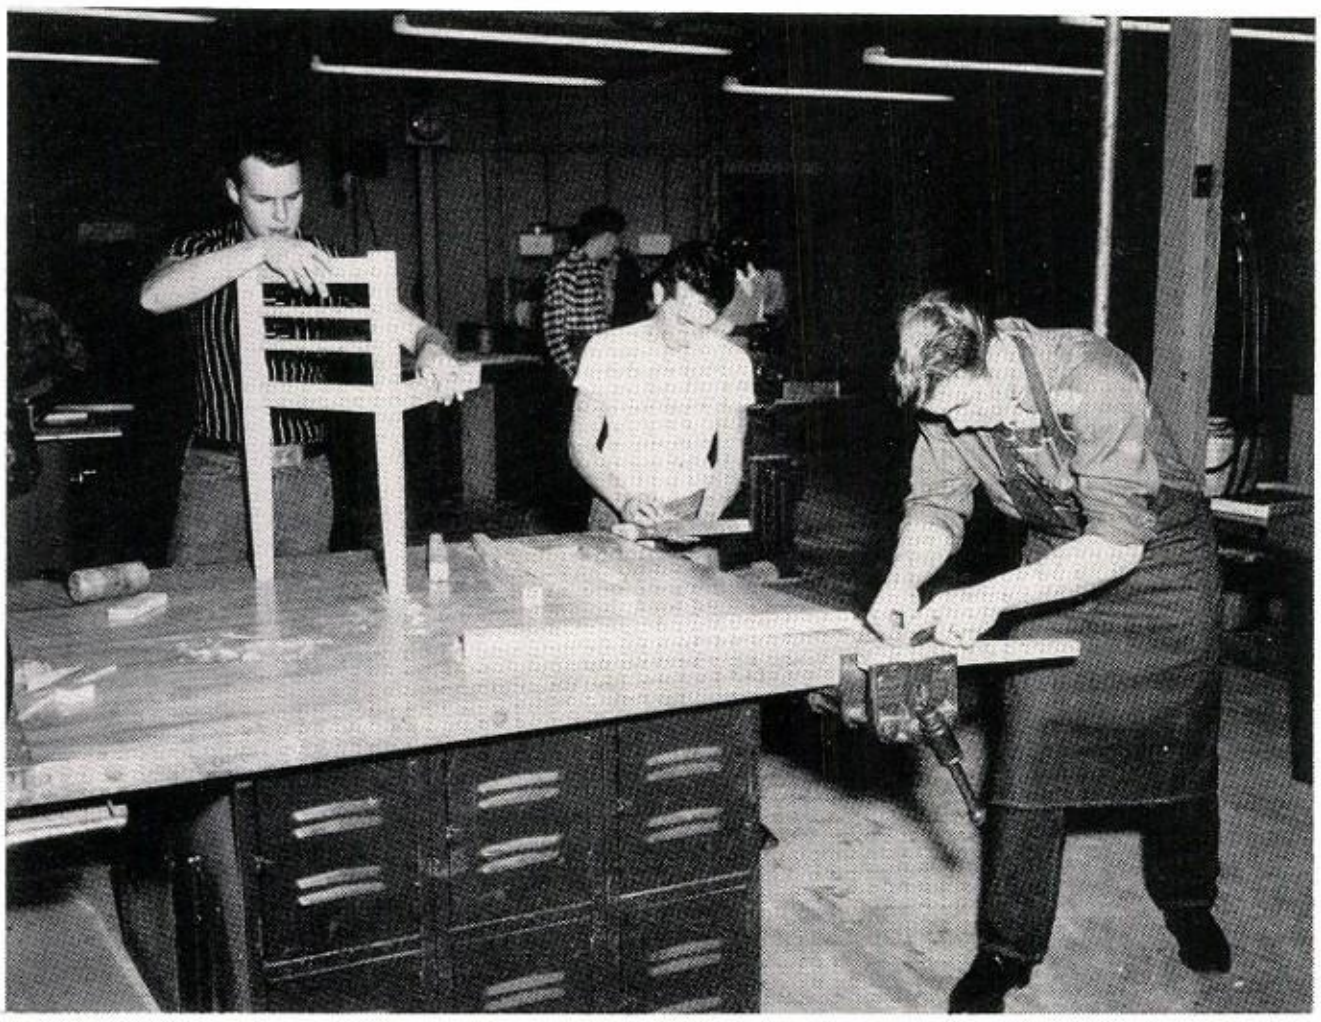
"Hit the books, folks." That's exactly what these seniors are doing in the serene quietness of study hall 216. Jeff Slade, far left, is using all the math formulas he can think of to figure out his chances of starting in the next basketball game. Brian O'Donnell and Jerry Thoeming appear to be engrossed in their study of Sir Henry Cavendish's chemistry experiments.

Bloom Life Means Study Halls . . .

Classrooms . . .



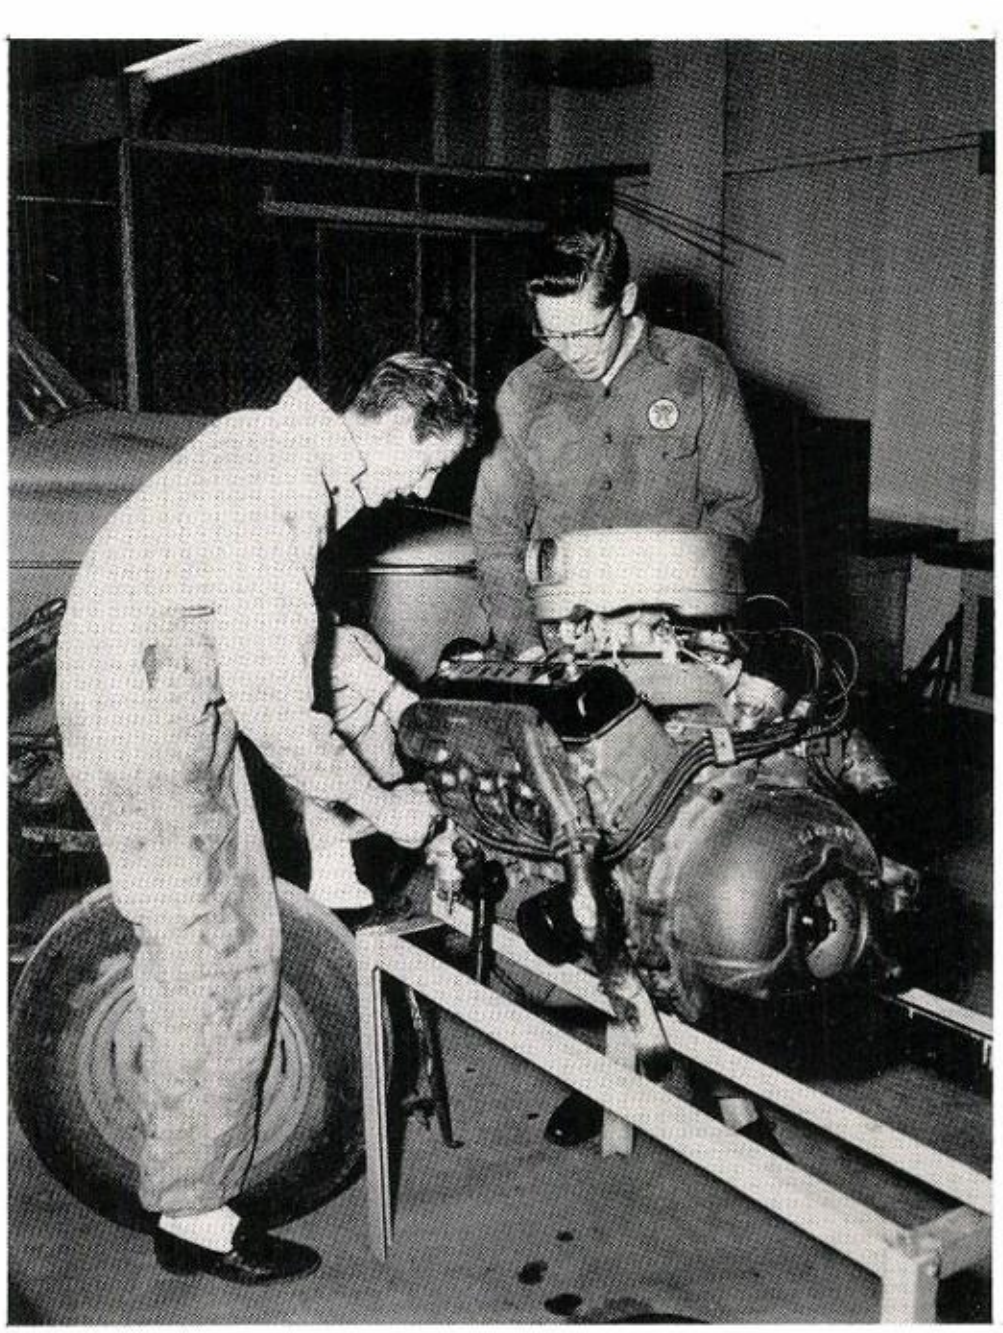
When problems arise involving mental calculations, the weaker sex often comes out on top. Here Judy Calderone explains a complicated geometry problem to a very puzzled Louis Capps. I'll bet Louis still doesn't believe you can arrange ten trees in ten rows with three trees in each row.



Ideas on paper become a reality as custom-made chairs, shelves, and tables receive that last coat of shellac. Here in advanced woodworking the skeleton of a chair begins to take shape as parts are planed, filed, and sanded to fit snugly into place. Not only does a job well done instill a deep sense of pride and satisfaction but the finished product also is often a very useful item.

. . . and Shop

Bob Schwalm and Allan Kruger are getting actual experience in servicing an engine as they prepare to work on the Ford V8 donated to the school by the Ford Motor Company. This is the starting place for many of our A-1 mechanics of today. Students are taught everything from changing a tire to the fundamentals of overhauling an engine. Many boys taking auto shop are also part time service station attendants. Who knows? Perhaps the next time you drive in to say "fill 'er up," you will be taken care of by a former Bloomite.



Dr. Paul Ashley, president of the Board of Education, in his acceptance speech.

Dedication Is Climax of Construction

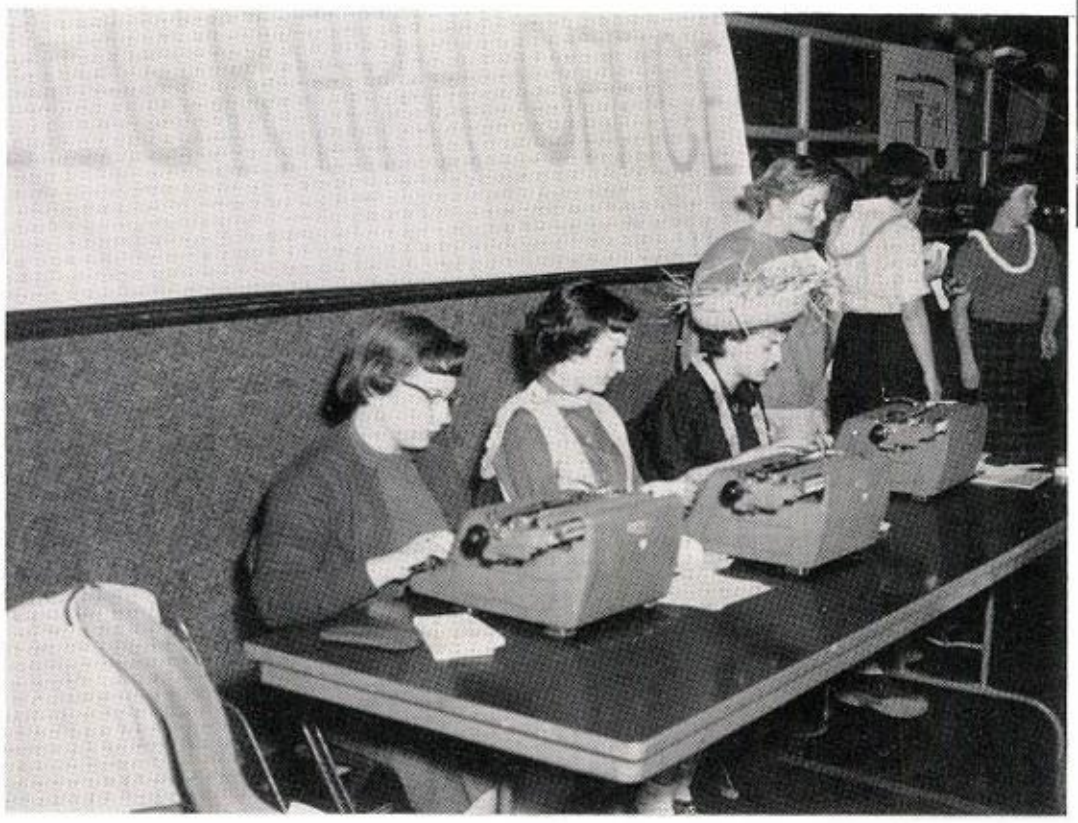
Visiting superintendents, student representatives, clergy and distinguished guests were introduced by Mr. George McEldowney.

Juniors Live It Up at Jamboree

All the color and balloons were not in the gym, John Dantico and Bob Austin, both seniors, find out.

Flying saucers were just as unpredictable at the Jamboree as they were at Cape Canaveral, these juniors discover.

Telegrams were typed by the score here at the heart of the communication system set up by the juniors. Marianne Quinn, Marcia Rosen, and Linda Ruggeri diligently type.

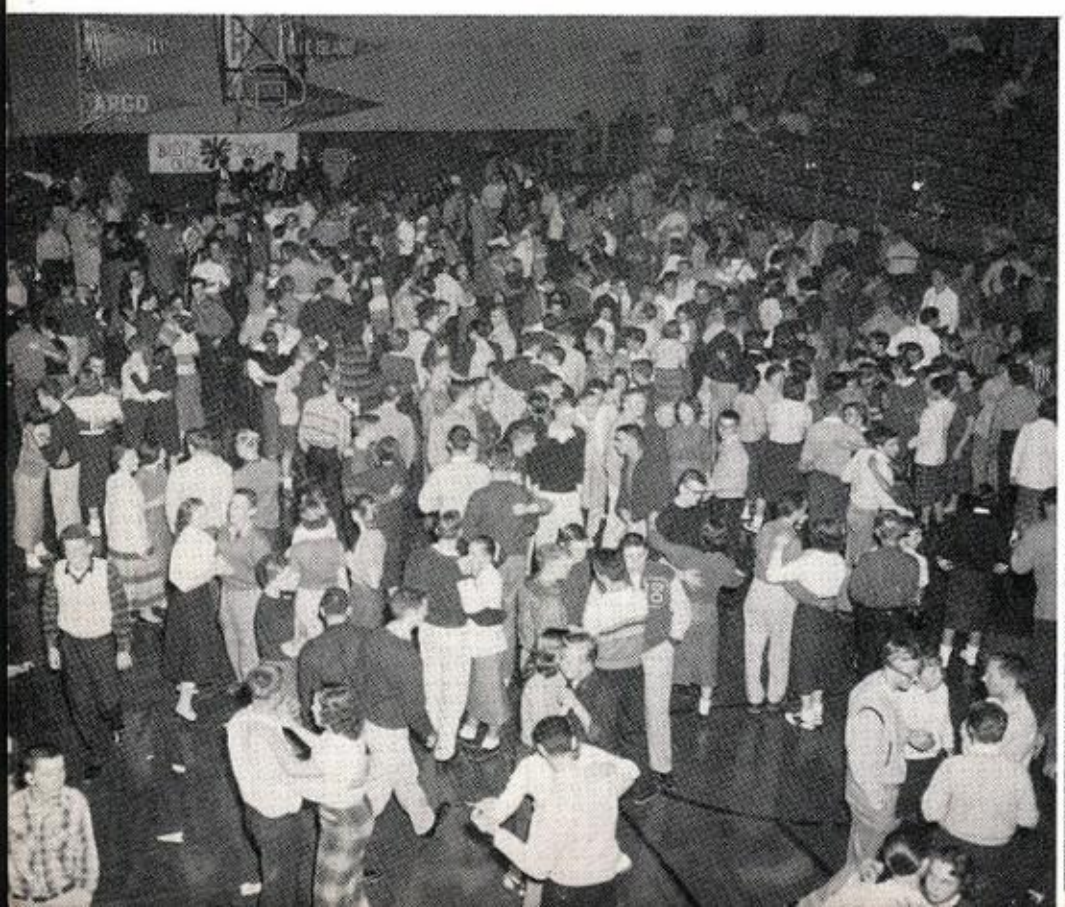


The Junior Jamboree (long called the Penny Social but renamed because of inflation and higher overhead) reached unprecedented heights and glamour this year. Jelly throws, a spook house, and box hockey were taken in turn by the awe-stricken freshman and the senior, who claimed that he just wanted to help out the juniors.

Victories are Celebrated at Dances

Hearts were high and happy after the football Trojans had handed arch rival Thornton a sound thrashing. What a perfect time for a dance to work off some of that reserve energy, and what better way was there to get acquainted with that certain someone. The annual "Get Acquainted" dance filled the bill in every respect.

On Valentine's Day, following a 47-46 basketball victory over Kankakee, the satisfied Trojan supporters flocked to the Blue and White dance to celebrate. Above: Cupid reigns supreme. Below: Getting Acquainted.



Everyone attending the 1958 version of the Homecoming dance had "a date with an angel." For the first time the new cafeteria was the scene of this annual affair. However, thanks to a superior decorating job, the dance floor hardly resembled the cafeteria as we know it. A large white telephone in the center of the floor helped to carry out the theme. As the clock approached 11:00 p.m. all eyes focused on the coronation platform where, amid squeals of delight, Bob Seely and Bebe Willis were crowned king and queen.

"Got a Date With An Angel"

Pat Noll and Gerry Clarey stand ready to congratulate King Bob Seely and Queen Bebe Willis.

Faculty Conquers Students

The Red Cross drive was highlighted by the annual student-faculty game. Under the supervision of the student council and Blair Peterson, commissioner of public welfare, the game pitted the members of the teaching staff against the senior boys belonging to student council. This year a strong faculty squad composed primarily of physical education instructors and ably coached by Fred Jacobeit, amassed a total of 42 points to sweep the contest. The students, led by top rebounder and leading scorer Paul Clarey, were at an extreme disadvantage, lacking the height and experience of the older men.

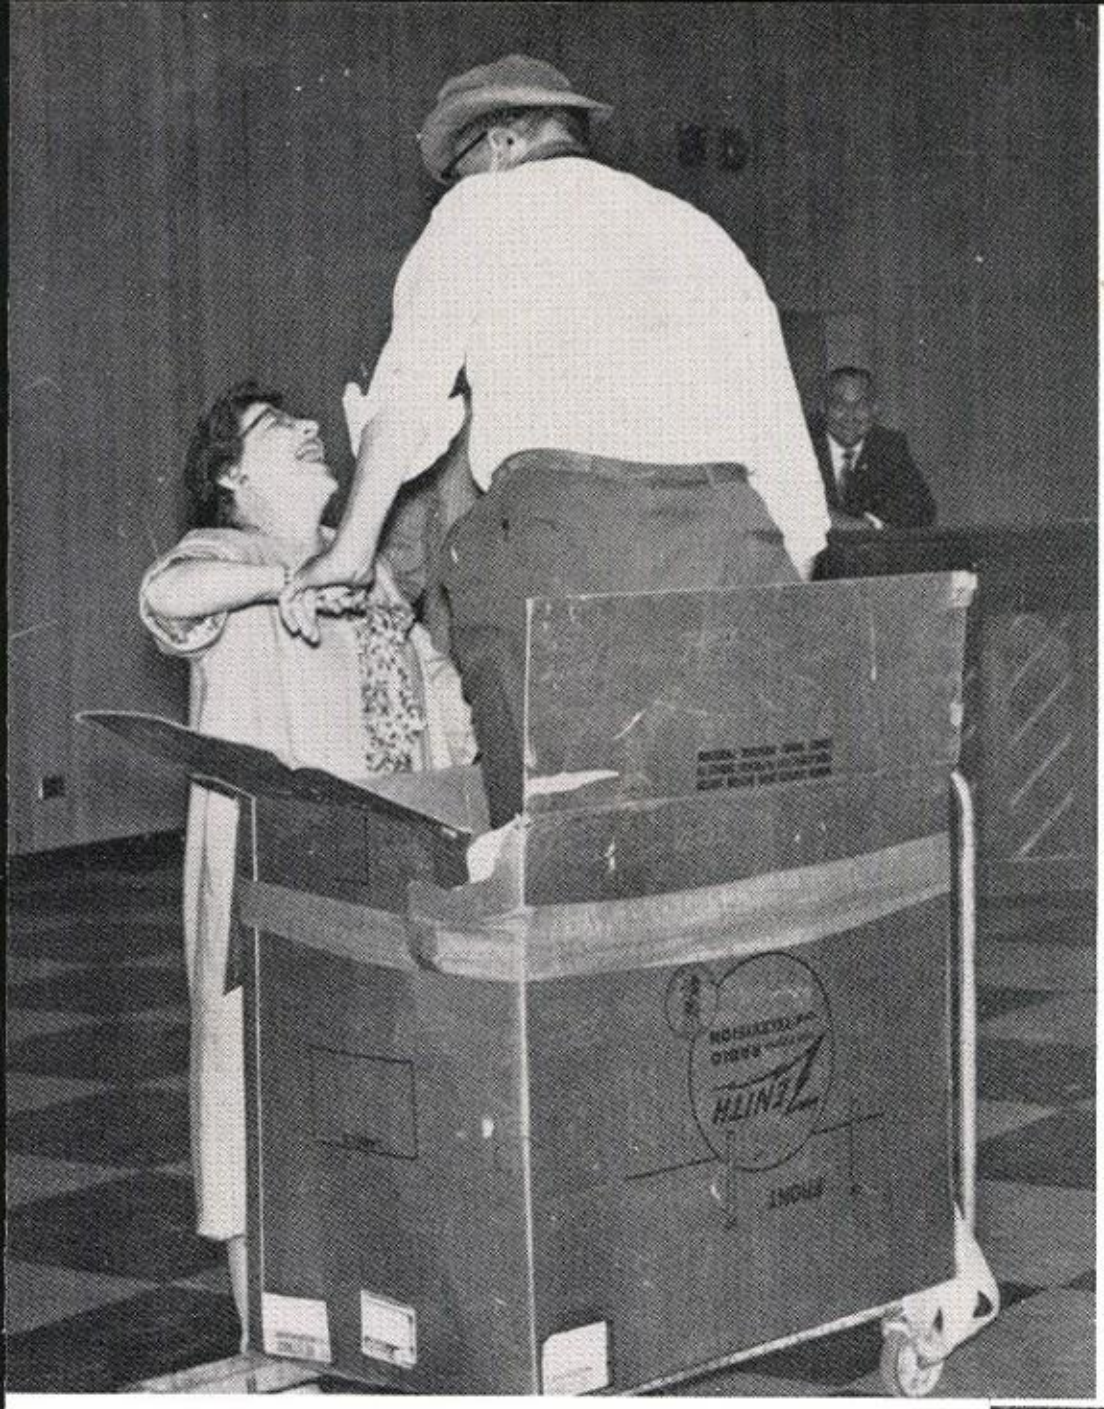
"Through Space With Jupiter"

The big event of the year as far as Latin students are concerned was the annual Roman banquet. Dressed in homemade pallas, togas, and stolas, members of Socii Romani, Roma Parva, and the Advanced Latin Club paraded through the halls to the cafeteria, where the feast was held. In accordance with the theme "Through Space with Jupiter," the pueri and puellae presented songs, dances and skits about the gods for whom the planets are named.

Left: George Thoeming and Jerry Geigel, young Roman warriors, prepare to engage in mortal combat much to the amusement of the "judges."



Faculty Frolic at Party

Miss House seems convinced that the proverb "good things come in small packages" is all washed up. Not everyone can get Mr. Miller as a door prize.

Santa turns the tables on Mr. Herr. Mr. Sears as St. Nick seems to be demanding a reindeer to fill his empty harness.

Highlighting the sports scene are the athletic battles with arch-rival Thornton. In the afternoon preceding each Trojan-Wildcat tussle the gym is filled to capacity with wildly cheering students. This is known as a pep assembly. It is here that the loyal supporters of the team make their last effort to inject the winning spark into the spirit of the players. Dr. Metcalf, the cheerleaders, and the team captains make the rally complete as they deliver their "fiery" orations. Hardly a soul leaves the assembly who does not believe the Trojans will be the ultimate victors.

Exemplifying the true spirit of the school, Dr. Metcalf stands ready to request his favorite cheer, "We're from Bloom, couldn't be prouder."

Assemblies are Bigger and Better

Led by Trojan Bob Leach, a band of loyal supporters hold high the athletic motto: "Beat Thornton."

With the new gym and auditorium complete, the job of seating the gigantic student body at assemblies became less of a major project.

For the first time in many years everyone was accommodated comfortably at one program. The occasion was an awards assembly in the gym honoring the football and cross country teams. Lou Boudreau was the guest speaker.

Soon after the final seat was bolted in place the new auditorium opened its doors and one half of the entire student body filed in, to hear Dr. Ethel Alpenfels, noted anthropologist, talk on the meaning of brotherhood.

Assemblies were now more of a treat than a treatment, what with the hard seats, cramped conditions, and poor acoustics of the old gym things of the past.

Right: Dr. Ethel Alpenfels delivers a Brotherhood Week address at the first assembly in the auditorium.

Rallys Boost Spirit

This, the dedication of McCann gym, was a long awaited event.

The senior girls really did "say it with music" at the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet. Song skits based on old favorites such as "Memories," "Heart of My Heart," "Tenderly," and "Mother" highlighted the entertainment. The Trojanettes, under the direction of Miss Jean Pavy, were the featured vocalists.

The word banquet brings to mind the medieval castle dining hall and food fit for kings. The new cafeteria, brightly decorated in blue and silver, hardly resembled a 13th century eating room, but the food served was fit for queens as well as kings. Roast beef was the featured dish.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet is just one of the many Girls League projects that can be labeled "successful."

The Trojanettes "say it with music."

A Salute to Mother

These senior girls provide after dinner entertainment as they sing their praises of mom.

Something New — Speeches Held Outdoors

Braving the cold and wind for over an hour, the students huddled around the circle to witness another Bloom first, an outdoor election campaign.

This year's parade had its usual color and excitement as the candidates swept around the circle in bright new convertibles. The speeches featured songs and skits performed by guitar players and calypso drummers.

Nothing but the inclement weather dimmed the lustre of our biggest and best organized campaign. Because of its success the very first time, the election speeches may become an outdoor tradition.

Ed Larsen seems to have the formula for attracting attention. Take one new convertible covered with campaign posters; add four pretty girls. Combine with noisemakers or a loud horn. We guarantee the interest of the crowd will be held.

Following the color and excitement of the parade comes the heart of the elections; the campaign speeches. Here Blair Peterson, candidate for commissioner, states his qualifications for office.

Here the entire cast of "A Kiss for Cinderella," assemble on the set of the ballroom scene for a final curtain call.

Seniors Stage Life

"Oh yes! Oh yes! Make way for the Lord Mayor, namely myself." These words opened the picturesque ballroom scene of "A Kiss for Cinderella," this year's Senior Class play. The three-act fantasy was staged in the new auditorium, where it was presented once at a matinee for the freshman in addition to a two-night stand.

The story takes place in England in the year 1916 and concerns the life of a modern Cinderella employed in an artist's studio as a charwoman. The highlight of the play is the ballroom scene in which Cinderella dreams of meeting her prince charming.

Mary Schindel as Cinderella, Bill Frazier playing the roles of the policeman and the prince, and Dick Dorne as Mr. Bodie, the artist, were the leading characters.

Cinderella, played by Mary Schindel considers the marriage proposal of policeman Bill Frazier.

Much of the success of the play can be attributed to the make-up department headed by Mrs. Edna North shown here applying the finishing touches to the "graying" hair of King Mel Durschlag.

Carol Sandroni wipes the excess cold cream from the face of Becky Howell as Belinda Palmo tries to imagine just what an early twentieth century beauty was supposed to look like.

of Modern Cinderella

Dick Dorne, playing the role of Mr. Bodie the artist, is slightly taken aback by the sharp, witty comments of Cinderella and her three adopted children.

Left: Being in the Prom court is the dream of many girls. Here Concelia Faso, Gail Behrens, Alice Magnuson and Bernice Patrizi surround the Queen, Melanie Donovan.

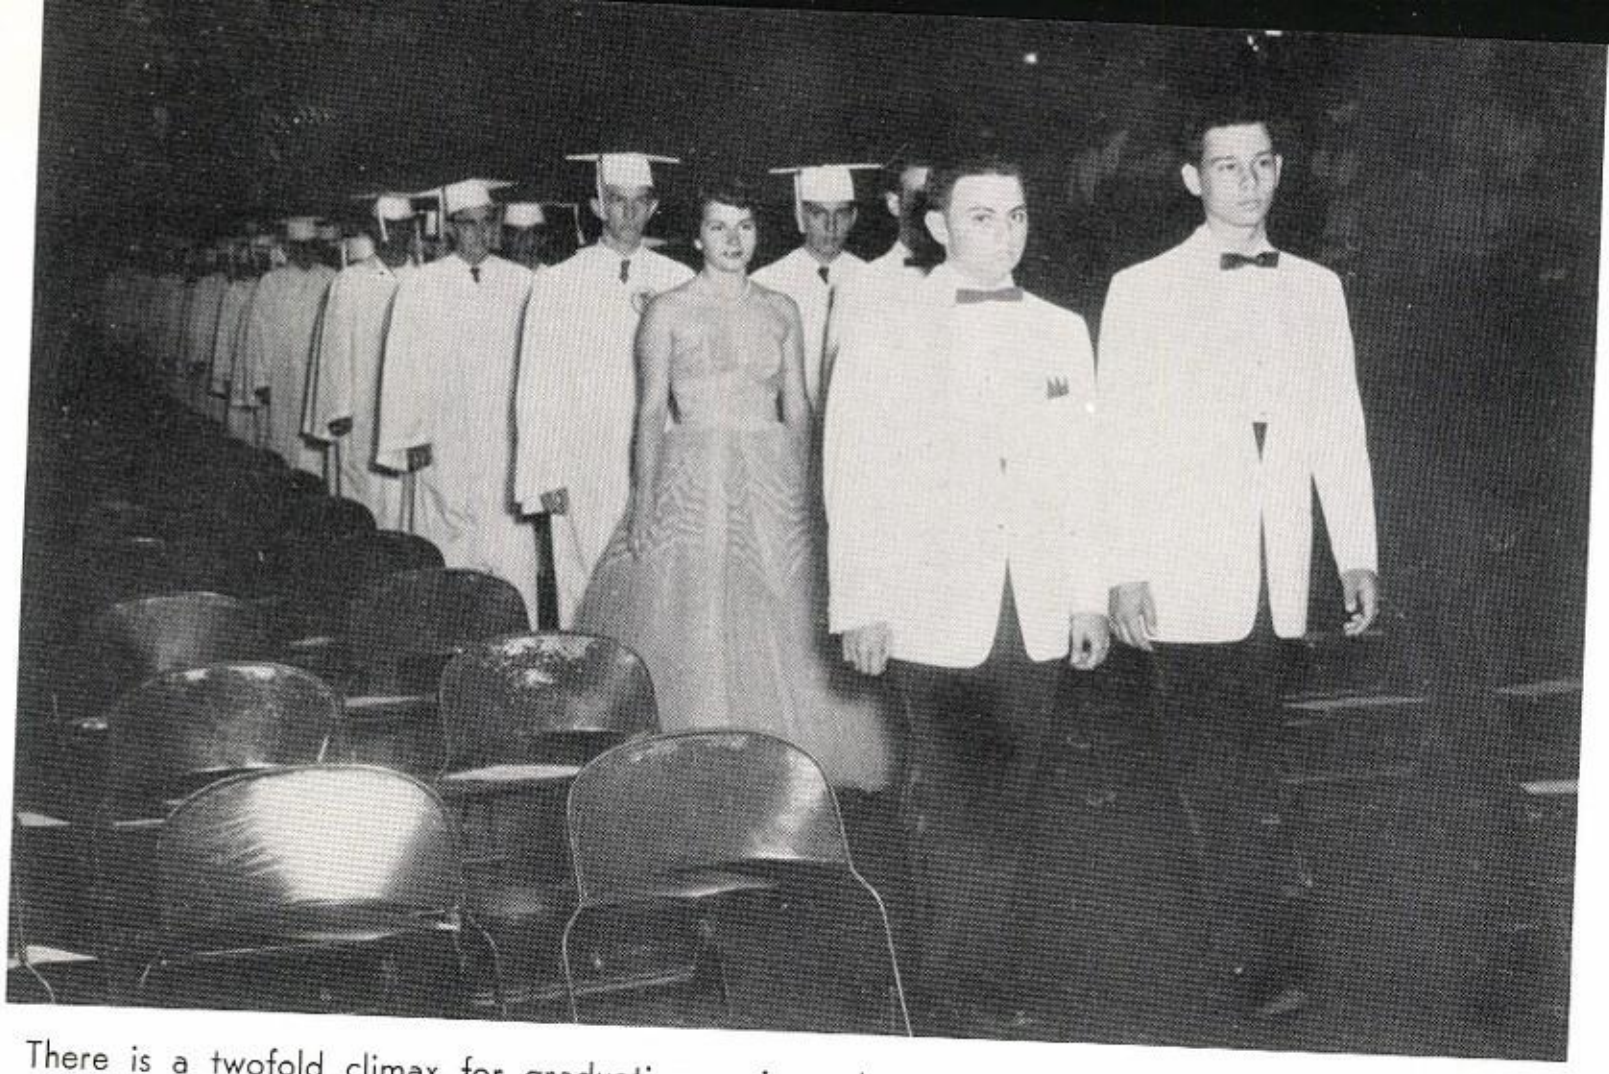
"Fantasia" Highlights Spring Social Season

"Fantasia" is defined as a musical composition not restricted by the usual laws of form or time. In keeping with this the gym was transformed into a flower garden at the height of springtime so as not to restrict the mind and imagination. This let all those who attended the prom interpret for themselves the meaning of "Fantasia."

Dick Carlton supplied the music for this "night of nights." Before the stroke of 12 Melanie Donovan was crowned queen by Junior Class President Ron Ignelzi.

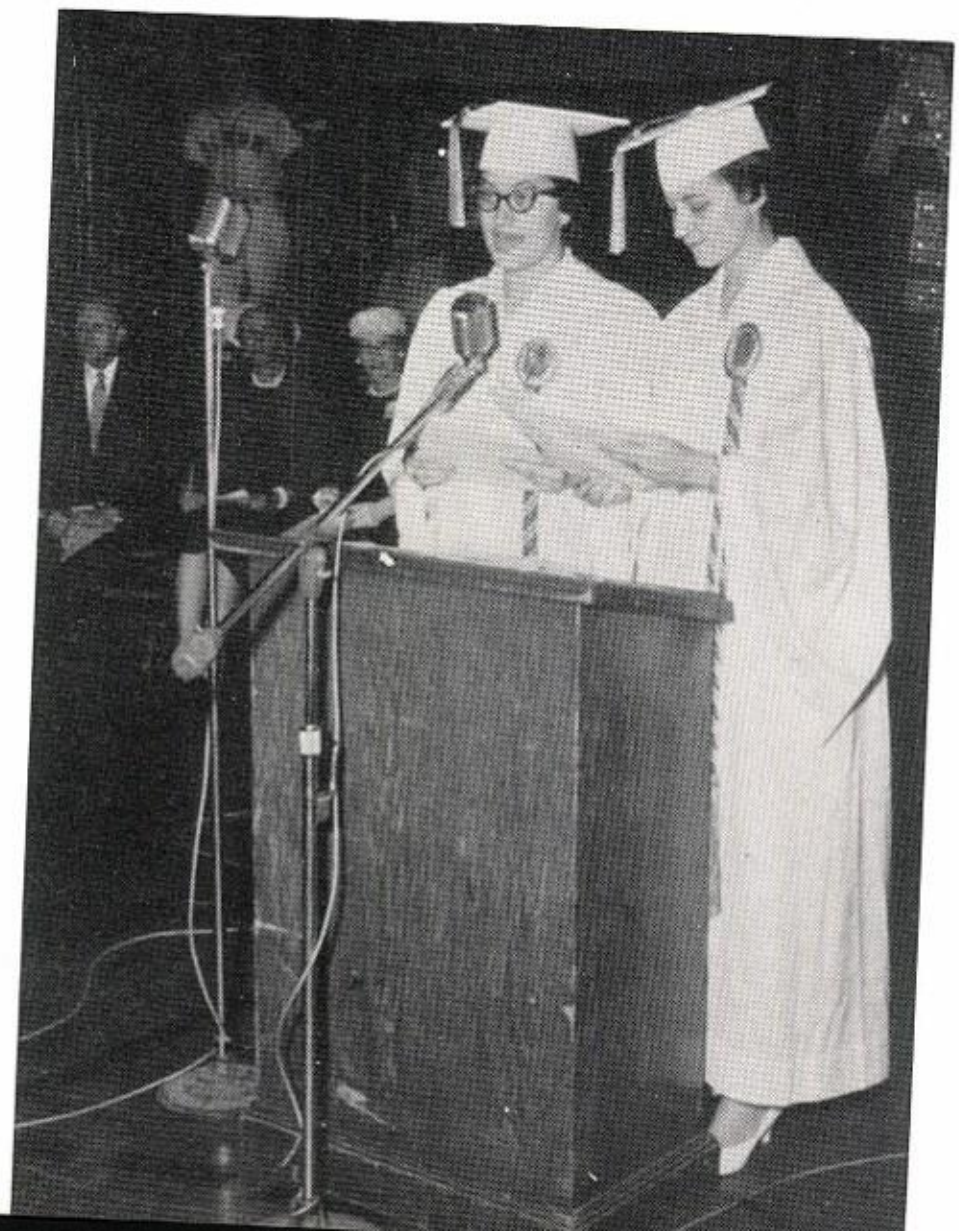
From the time the corsage was pinned on until it was time to say good-bye to a wonderful day at the Dunes, "Fantasia" meant something very special.

In addition to a bouquet of roses, the Queen and her Court receive charm bracelets. Here Kurt Auguston helps Melanie fasten her bracelet.



There is a twofold climax for graduating seniors, class day and the graduation exercises. "The beginning of the end" is an assembly given for the school-wide recognition of seniors. Here the junior class officers, Ron Ignelzi, Al Spada, Mary Schindel, and Rich Evans lead in the procession.

Graduating Seniors Find Doors



This year's seniors, as in years before, find that graduation opens doors to new and exciting worlds. Ahead for many is college. For others there is a career in the armed forces or perhaps a chance to go directly into business, industry, or agriculture. Behind lies Bloom—ahead everything.

One of the high spots in any class day assembly is the presentation of the class will. Here Arlene Rotoloni and Diane Hantak leave the fondest and most amusing of their memories to be rediscovered by the underclassmen.

Five of the hardest working students at Bloom are the mayor and his council of commissioners. Little enough recognition is given to these capable seniors. Here Dr. Metcalf presents a well-earned award to former mayor Eugene Sadus. Milt Odegard, Ron Milnes, Lynn Napoli, and Jim Seely wait in turn.

are Opened to New Worlds

The presentation of a diploma ends four years of toil and fun at high school. Here this finale lies just inches away for Gene Abrassart, followed by George Adair and Dave Adema.

Music is Oldest Activity

Early in Bloom's history social activities played an important part in the life of the student body. At first the activities were limited because of Bloom's small enrollment. During that time the highlights of the year would have included victory banquets after successful sports campaigns, dances and concerts in the Victoria Hotel.

Later the program of activities was expanded to include clubs, dramatic productions and music groups. The most novel of these clubs was the one dedicated to the preservation of good music. This group met around an old gramophone and listened to the classical music they all enjoyed. They felt that the "bunny hug" and "'Charleston" would be the death of their youth.

In recent years the number of clubs at Bloom has grown almost in proportion to the increase in enrollment. Whenever a point of common interest is found among the students, there is sure to be a club sponsored by an equally interested teacher.

The oldest of these clubs, dating back to 1907, are the two glee clubs, the band and orchestra, the Romani Hodierni, or Latin Club, and the Drama Club, whose Christmas party is shown on the opposite page. In recent years the Latin Club has split into three groups, and there is also a Speech Activities organization for drama and oratory enthusiasts. Somewhere in Bloom there is a group interested in any subject imaginable.

City of Bloom Government

Mayor Ed Larsen confers with Commissioners Al Spada, Bruce Frobes, Rich Evans, and Blair Peterson.

Ed calls the meeting to order.

The City of Bloom, like the City of Chicago Heights, uses the commission form of government. A mayor and four commissioners, elected by the students, run the student government with the help of their faculty sponsors.

Directly representing the citizens, the Student Council, over which the mayor presides, is composed of one councilman and one alternate elected from each homeroom.

The executive board includes the mayor, the four commissioners, and their sponsors.

The departments of social activities, public improvement, finance, and public welfare are each headed by one commissioner. Through these departments, dances and assembly programs are planned, service organizations are operated, City funds are taken care of, and drives are conducted.

Meeting every other week, the Student Council provides an active student government at the City of Bloom.

Outstanding work on the publications staffs is rewarded by election to the Quill and Scroll Society.

Membership to this honorary journalistic society is open to juniors and seniors who have worked on either the Broadcaster, Annual, or Tower staffs. Initiation takes place in the early spring.

Bloom's chapter of this nationwide organization is under the direction of Miss Betty House, sponsor of the Broadcaster and Annual staffs.

Prospective Journalists

Editor Janet Graham confers with Judy Laurie, Karen Nelson, Jane Niblock, Susan Nordburg, and Linda Rugeri about the Tower.

Chosen by a staff of students, the material contained in the Tower represents the best student writing created throughout the school year.

The preparation of this student magazine, which is published at the end of the school year, is directed by Mr. Thomas McKillip of the English department.

Most of the work contained in the Tower is produced in the English classes and is submitted by teachers.

Busy Staffs Prepare

Mr. Bart Herr and Mr. George Hamlin, sponsors, look on as Carol Beers, Sandy Mattosz, Mary Claire Beck, David Wiltsee, Diane Salans, Dale Wyngarden, Don Lee, and Eleanor Hartmann prepare the yearbook.

Editors Brian Davis and Bob Bouton discuss a problem on the Annual while Judy Dolowy and Concelia Faso efficiently type copy.

Meeting each day to plan and prepare the yearbook, the Annual Staff has a membership of 14. The editors usually begin work on the book in the spring of the preceding year in order to have it ready for distribution.

The activities of the group are directed by its advisers, Miss Betty House, Mr. Barton Herr, and Mr. George Hamlin.

Student Publications

Miss Betty House directs the publication of the school paper, the Broadcaster while staff members Dominic Candeloro, Barbara Kendrick, Mary Lou Prebstle, Al Spada, Ron Ignelzi, Dorothy Smardack, editor, Bruce Frobes, Richard Sylla, and Bill Frazier labor to meet a deadline.

The endless cycle of writing, editing, and printing a newspaper is experienced by members of the Broadcaster staff. Every two weeks the school paper is distributed, and the responsibility for its being ready lies squarely with them and their editorial adviser, Miss Betty House. Mr. Albert Berg is the business adviser.

The editorial board is comprised of about 15 students.

Marcia Rosen, Edith Dudley, Bill Motlong, Letty Abell, Bonnie Slov, and Roger Wheatley work at a Broadcaster problem.

Bringing call slips to the hundreds of different rooms in the school and delivering the attendance sheets to the teachers are only two of the many diversified tasks of the Attendance and Office Monitors. The groups, whose members give up a great deal of their own study hall time to these chores, are considered an organization strictly for service to the school.

The library girls are of great service to the librarians, teachers, and students alike. Not only do they take care of many routine clerical duties that are connected with the operation of a library but they also are responsible for the collection of library passes and arrangements of books. Under Miss E. Pearl Hess the 30 girls give up much of their study hall time each day in service to the school.

First and foremost task of the hall guides, whose station is the desk outside the library, is to welcome and direct any visitors who enter Bloom.

Approximately 15 students make up the hall guides, which also is a service group.

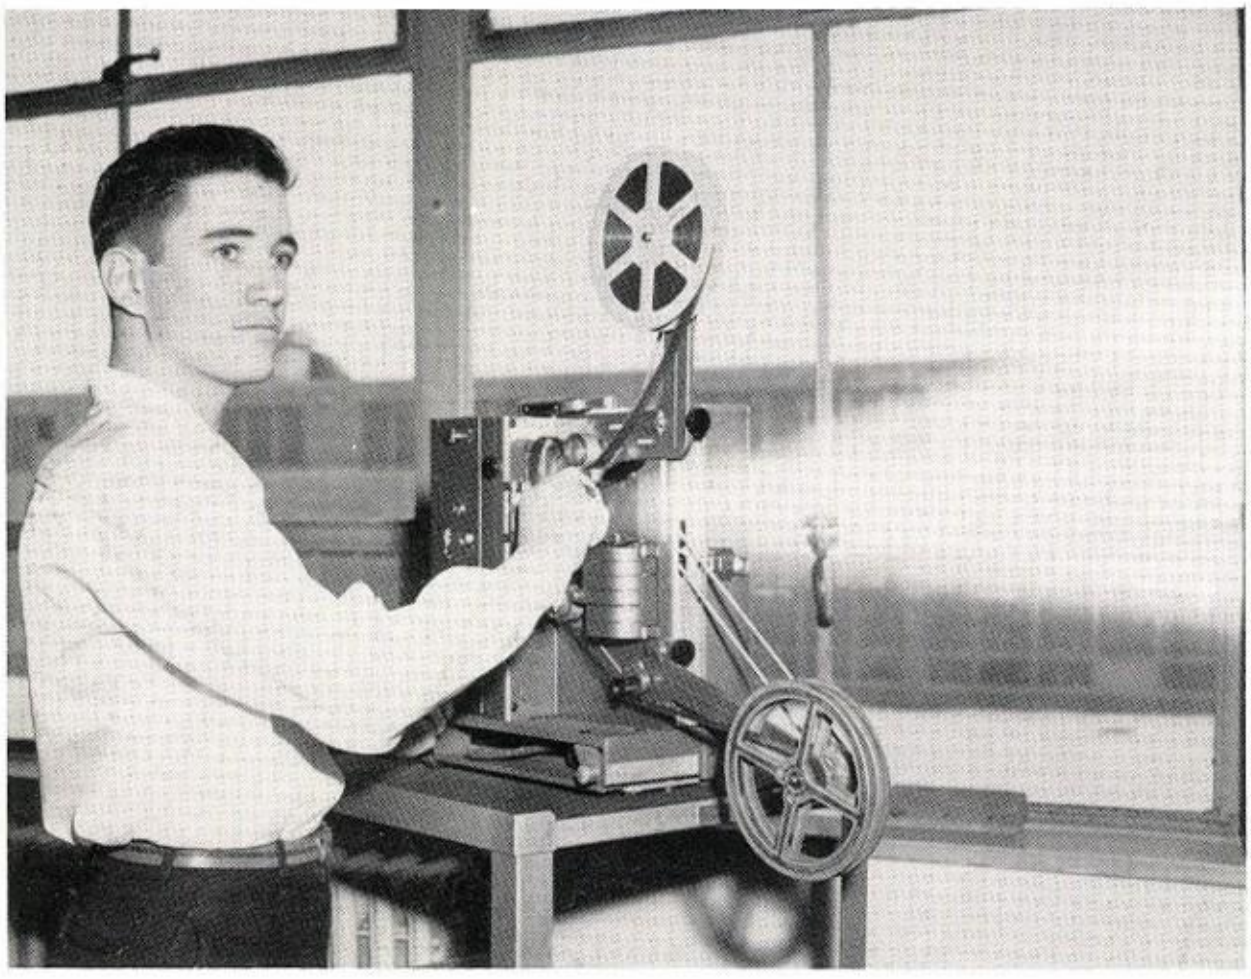
Films Supplement Classwork



Alan Geary, sophomore, gains experience in operating the film projector.

Supplementing daily classwork, films shown by members of the Projection Staff provide audio-visual education for Bloom students.

In addition to operating the projector in Room 317, members of the staff also show films in individual classrooms and run other audio-visual equipment.

At the end of each year, members receive awards for their service.

Approximately 53 members, including both operators and secretaries, make up the Projection Staff, which is sponsored by Mr. Lloyd Richert.

Controlling the stampede between classes, hall guides are posted at stairways, doorways, and hallways during the six-minute passing periods.

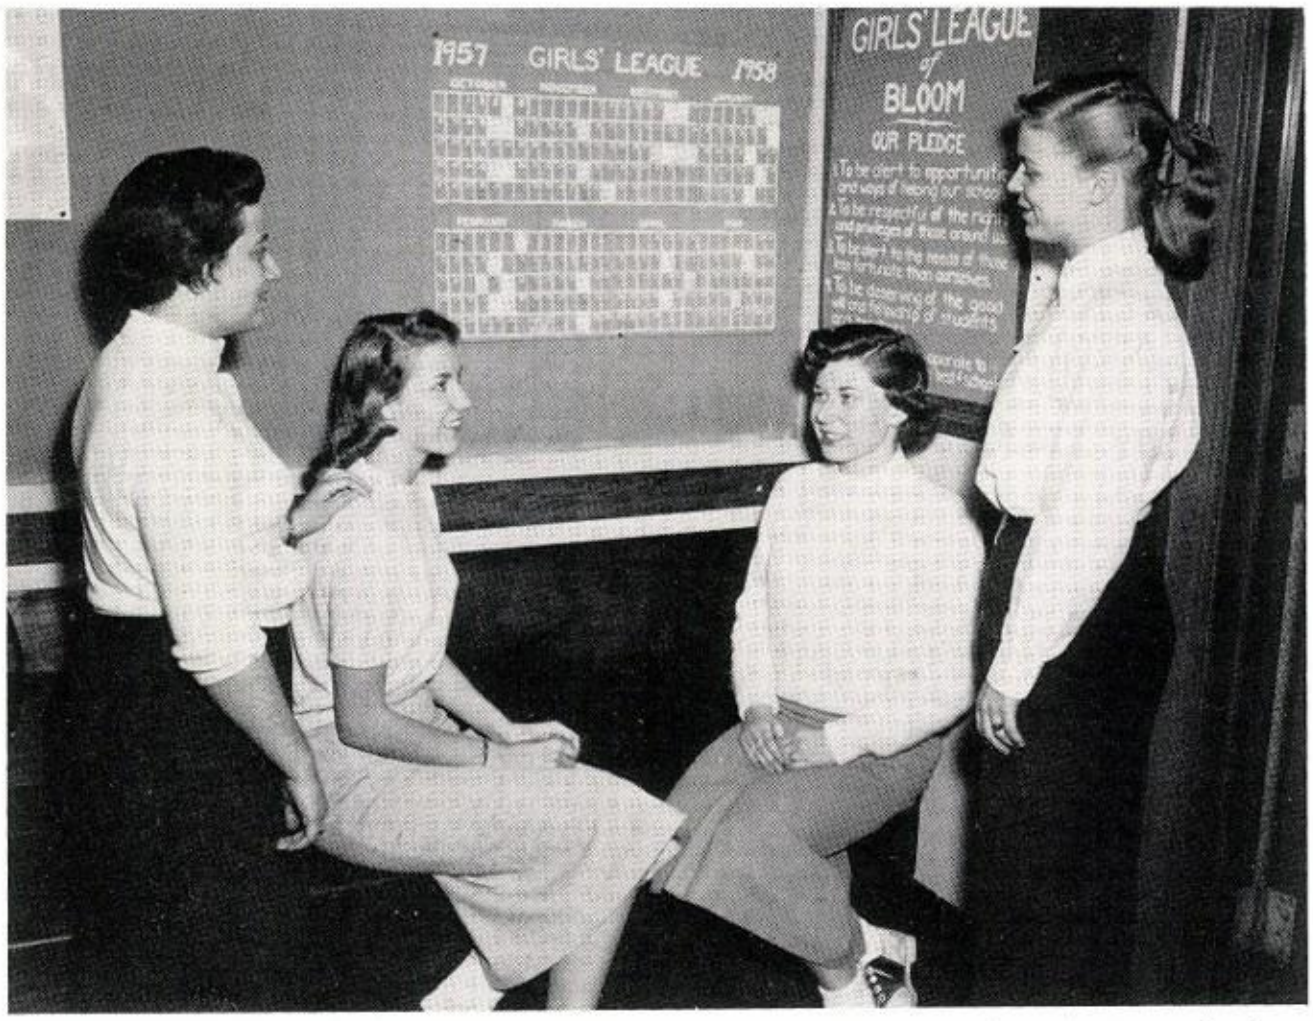
The purpose of the organization is to relieve congestion and offer service to all students at Bloom.

One of the highlights of the year for the hall guides is attending a baseball game in the spring.

Mr. Clayton Smith, sponsor, and Al Spada, commissioner, are in charge of the group.

During the between-class rush traffic guide Martin Moenck checks the speeds of Roger Reynolds and Tim Murphy.

Girls Liven Bloom Life



Nancy Marnell, treasurer, Gayle Meyers, secretary, and Judy Santeford, vice-president discuss plans with League president, Barbara Mitchell.

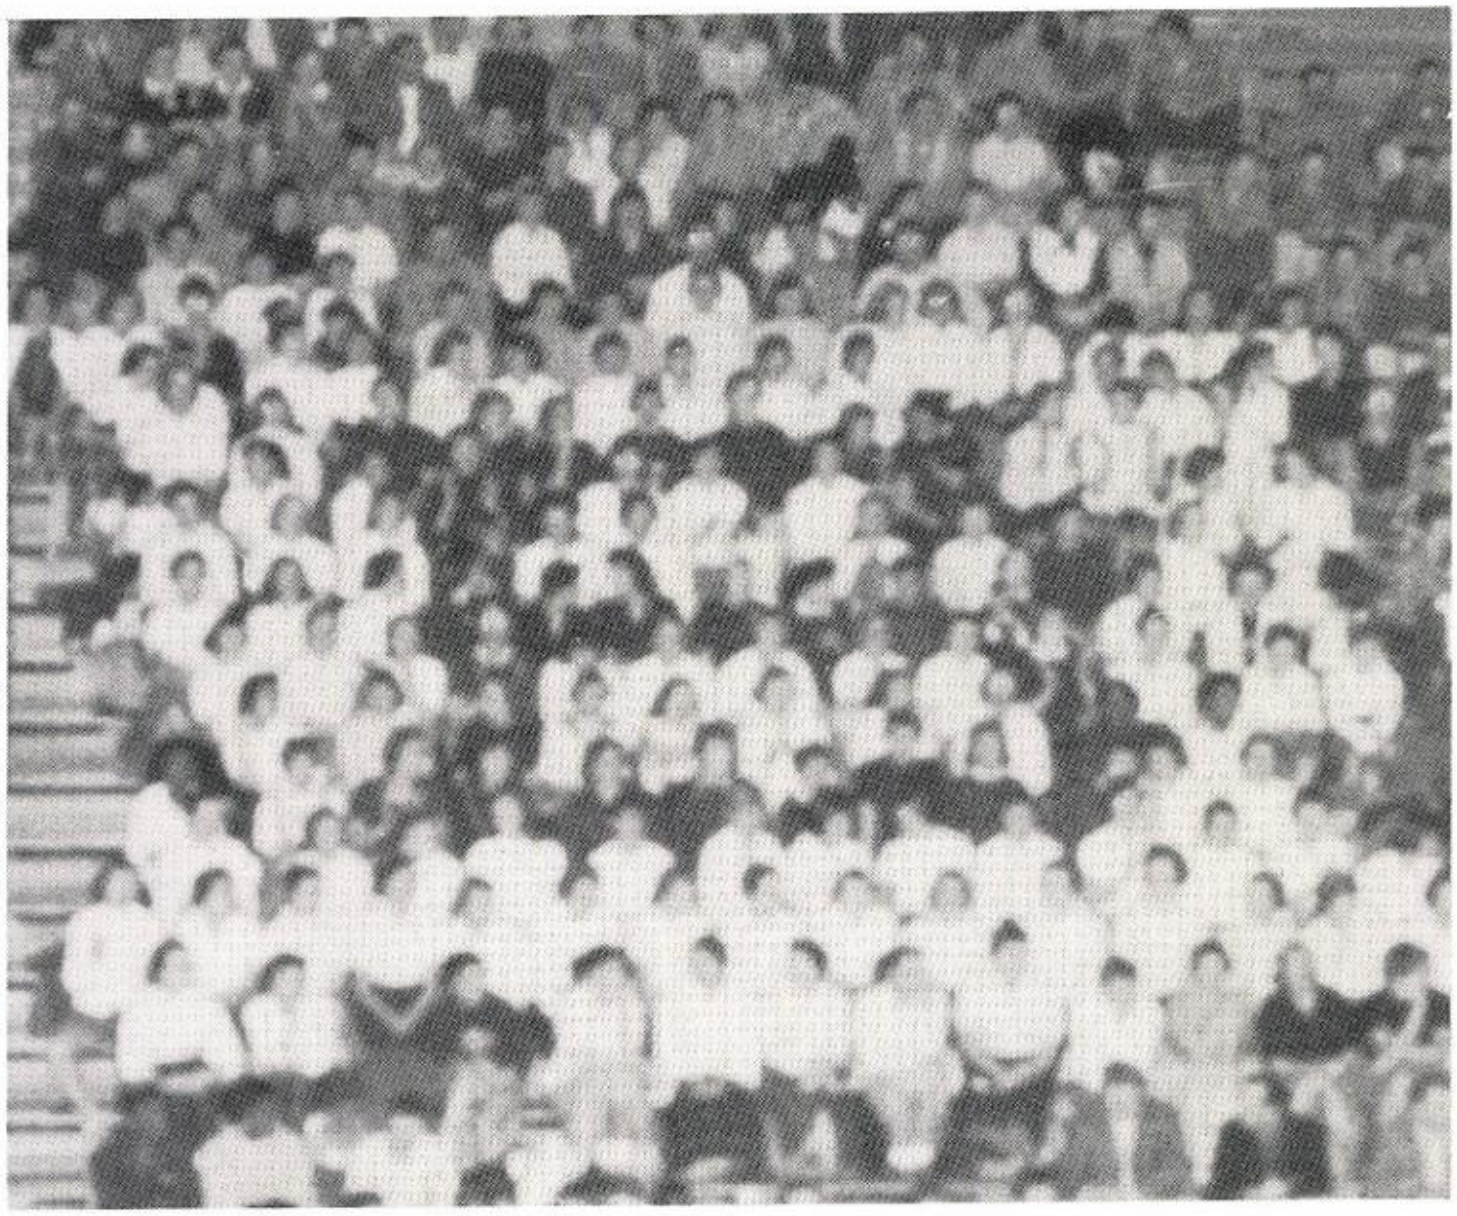
Mr. Hamlin supports the Girls' League by buying popcorn at the game from Billie Jones and Janet Wade, as Gayle Meyers and Miss Theobald look on.

Every Bloom girl is a member of the Girls League, an all-school service organization designed to help promote Bloom spirit.

This year, in addition to the annual Big Sister program to acquaint freshmen with the school, Girls League representatives initiated a welcome plan, to help new students feel at home at Bloom.

Guided by their sponsor, Miss Ora Theobald, League members included among their various activities the Senior Mother-Daughter Banquet, "Say It With Music," the Christmas Tea; the bundle drive; and the support of Lucio, an Italian foster child.

Pep Club Rouses Spirit



Upon close examination, the big B of the Pep Club is vaguely discernible.

Cheering the Trojans on to victory, the Pep Club, which forms a big blue B, makes a colorful appearance at every Bloom game.

New cheers are first performed by this club at the games.

The Pep Club is sponsored by Mr. Franklin Miller.

Many members of the regular band who enjoy playing for basketball games sign up in the group known as the Pep Band. Like the band, it is under the direction of Mr. Einar Cannelin. Lending a musical note, it is present at practically all home games to play before the start and during half-time.

Also under Mr. Cannelin is the Cadet Band, a group of beginning musicians who gather to learn the fundamentals of music and to become acquainted with how a band operates.

They Entertain Fans

Karen Householder, Jo Anne Harvey, Julie Osterman, Bernice Patrizi, Marilyn Schmidt, Nancy Nylander, Judy Brolin, Mary Schindel, and Penny Phelps lead at half-time.

Performing at all major athletic events, such as basketball and football games, the Majorettes and Flag Twirlers are one of the attractions of which. Bloom is proudest. The Majorettes are usually seen during half-time wearing striking costumes and going through precision baton twirlng, while the flag twirlers add color to any event they attend.

Miss Liela Veazey is head of the entire organization, which practices often its many different routines. The girls are always working on something new to add life to the games.

Concert Band

Bloom's band forms an important part of its musical program and is well-known to students through its appearances at assemblies and school-sponsored concerts. The most important of these is the annual Spring Concert, which is one of the big events of the year. Aside from school occasions, the band is also active in appearing for various civic groups, such as the Lions, Kiwanis, and Rotary Clubs.

The group, under the direction of Mr. Einar Cannelin, each year sends two of its members to a music clinic to further their studies.

Concert Orchestra

Serious music-lovers at Bloom traditionally find the orchestra a pleasing relief from the modern musical noise. This year, under Mr. Robert Hippensteel, the group appeared at such events of the school year as the Christmas Concert, Spring Concert, and Senior Class Play, along with other less important occasions. Assemblies for the benefit of the students were also presented, at which selections from the various concerts were given.

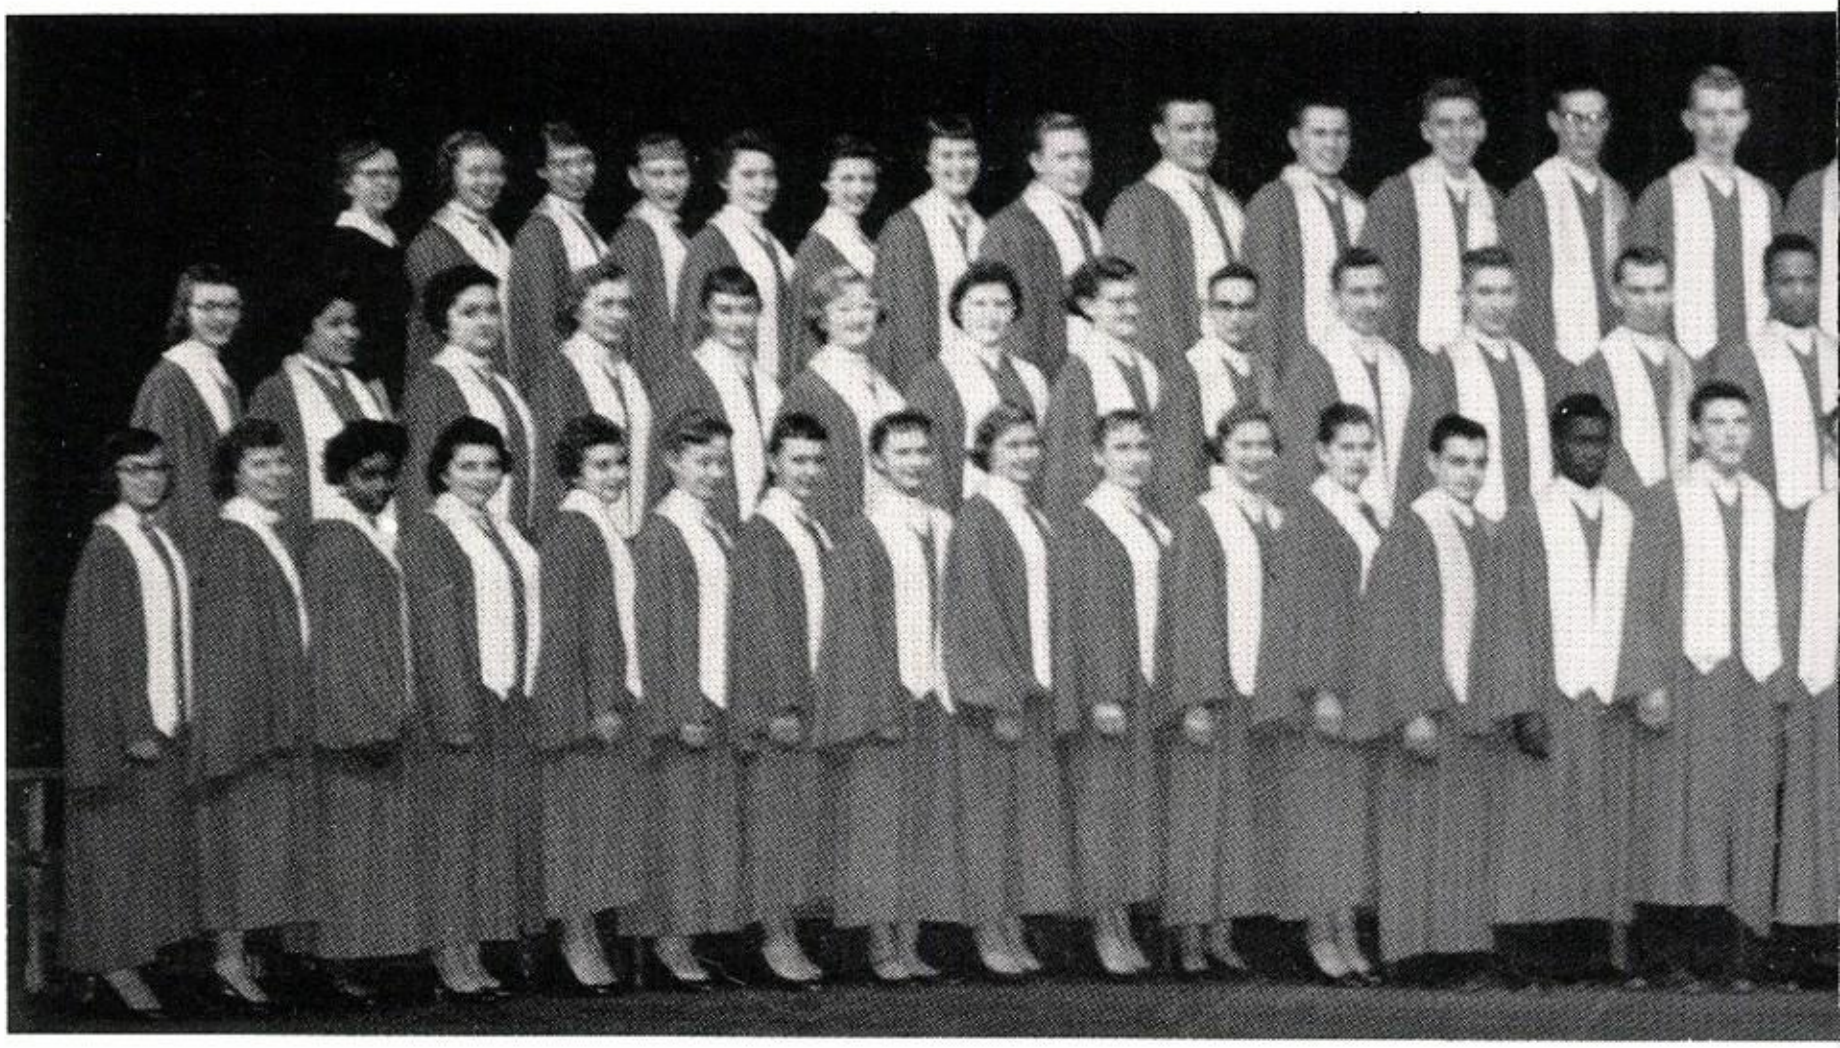
Bloom's Choir Presents a



Ninety-one voices comprise the a Cappella Choir, Bloom's most professional vocal group. Miss Jean Pavy leads them through school concerts, community events, and such group occasions as the Kiwanis and Rotary Club banquets.

Students preparing for the a Cappella Choir must spend some time in either the Boys' or Girls' Choir, both of which operate the same way as the a Cappella, only on a smaller scale.

The Girls' Glee Club, which is divided into two separate sections, has a membership of 117. All the girls are graduates of the Freshman Chorus who tried out for the group at the end of their first year. The primary purpose of the organization is the training of members for more advanced groups, such as the aCappella Choir.

Under the direction of Miss Jean Pavy the group meets three times a week, as a class, and performs in numerous out-of-school activities. These include the Vocal Music Concert, held in February, and the Spring Festival, which takes place in May.

Members of the Boys Glee Club meet three times each week during school hours to practice. Each practice consists of the singing of spirituals, show tunes, and even some popular songs, which they perform at numerous school assemblies and at the annual Spring Festival. The group, with Mr. Einar Cannelin directing, also goes on the road to perform at various junior high schools in the area. These trips are most frequent during the spring season and usually take place during regular class periods.

Freshmen Provide

Incoming freshman girls who desire to become members of a vocal group are welcomed into the Freshman Chorus. Miss Jean Pavy directs three of the five groups, while Mr. Robert Hippensteel directs the remaining sections. Together they include nearly 250 members, who meet twice each week for one class period.

Musical Atmosphere

Like other vocal groups, the chorus' main function is the training of students to appreciate and get more out of their music. An opportunity to show their abilities is given each year when the group participates in the Spring Music Festival, along with the other music groups.

Row 1: Carol Anderson, Lynn Prokop, Jane MacMaster, Carolyn Farabaugh, Joyce Turner, Beth Spiering, Susan Craig, Dorothy Hunstock, Patricia Czajka, Gayle O'Rourke, Mary Mitcham, Alice Brewer, Flora Allen, Hattie Betts, Karen Hartlep, Gloria Goncher, Linda Hanko. Row 2: Karen Cameli, Sandra Passarelli, Jackie Nieken, Sharon Calgaro, Marjorie Porter, Rosalie Schaefer, Karen Salvatore, Connie Fronczak, Ann Kolody, Elaine Klepac, Cheryl Belinski, Mary Hunstock, Nancy Winblad, Dietrice Grimes, Eila Mae Randrey, Doris Ahlgrimm, Karen Koenig, Pamela Stackhouse. Row 3: Eva Mae Etheridge, Mary Simmons, Angeline Giannetti, Diane Kruzel, Frances Jones, Annie Johnson, Evelyn McDavid, Patricia Talley, Patricia Hodges, Louise Stewart, Lillie Smith, Joan Pelock, Susan Mansell, Judy Schmitt, Kay Widen, Bonnie Doud, Sharon Inucci, Diane Peters. Row 4: Janet Miniscalco, Geraldine Miller, Terry Johnson, Barbara Heidenreich, Nancy Hayden, Joann Saviano, Christine Flagda, Gloria Garcia, Helen Gatch, Marilynn Egner, Penne Drew, Gail Smith, Margaret O'Connor, Bonnie Walsh, Nancy Tiz, Beatrice Orne. Row 5: Jeanne Jaffe, Glenda DeLuca, Mary Ann Beckman, Andrea Wilson, Ingrid Seidelman, Anita Roberts, Margo Rosenstein, Beth Donnelly, Kathleen Breyfogle, Judy Farneti, Cara Monro, Audrey Rhoads, Denise Fisher, Betty Kannberg, Connie Reinhardt, Terri Ogieglo. Row 6: Janet Lutz, Karen Dooley, Barbara Spanos, Claire Sawyer, Sydney Simpson, Loura Marie Hodge, Beverly Long, Penny Ciancanelli, Julie Bradshaw, Sheila Conant, Sherry Keaton, Karen Szabo, Bonnie Phillips, Linda Fryk, Susan Finder.

Activities Supplement Classwork

Organizations to suit every field of interest are found among Bloom's many extracurricular activities. To most students these clubs prove both educational and entertaining. When the dismissal bell rings at 3:20 p.m., the halls fill with students hurrying to meetings.

Clubs Promote Interest in Languages

Das Deutsche Verein, the German Club, provides German students with an interesting supplement to daily classwork through films, slides, and talks.

One of the highlights of the club's year was a Christmas play, written, produced, and directed by members. The presentation was followed by holiday refreshments.

The club, comprised of 39 members, meets once a month with its sponsor, Miss Ruth Sawyer of the language department.

Tim Morgan, program chairman, Barbara Vollmer, secretary, Ruth Llorca, treasurer, and Larry Weller, president, enjoy German magazines.

Stimulating a further interest in the study of French through lectures and films, La Circle Francáis is open to any French student.

This year a Christmas play was presented by and for members of the club. A puppet show, also produced by students, was held in the spring.

The group's 38 members meet once a month, sponsored by Miss Ruth Sawyer.

Lois Stephens, treasurer, Judy Prist, program chairman, Martha Hopkins, president, and Anne Seymour, secretary, take part in a skit in French.

Language Students Enjoy

John Goncher, secretary; Alisa Hochberger, treasurer; Simon Klein, president; and Jane Watkins, vice-president, enjoy Los Companeros.

Stimulating interest in Spanish and Latin American cultures, Los Companeros, the Spanish Club, which meets every other week, is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Harriet Murray.

Making miniatures of Spanish life and preparing costumes of the Latin lands are only two of the many projects undertaken by this group.

One of the largest parts in the annual Language Clubs' Christmas party is also handled by Los Companeros.

Studying aspects of Roman life, history, and culture, members of "Romani Hodierni," the advanced Latin Club, meet every other Thursday after school.

Through games, dramatizations of Roman stories, and songs, the club provides opportunities for Latin students to participate in activities which cannot be included in regular classes.

The club, sponsored by Miss Annette Gioannini, is comprised of approximately 55 members.

Barbara Chinchoni, Lucy Work, Linda Smith, Jim Siciliani, Carol DeLuca, and Frank Croston, show how it happened in Rome.

Exploring Other Cultures

Because of the great number of Latin students who wish to join an outside activity, it is necessary to have two lower Latin clubs.

These, Roma Parva and Socii Romani, are headed by Mrs. Marilou Work and Mr. Harold McNabb and do much the same as the advanced group.

Studying Roman customs and life and taking part in events like the Roman Banquet is the order of the day for these clubs.

Bloomites Perform

Al Spada, Karen Nelson, and Janet Rietveld, use a tape recorder to help them acquire skill in public speaking.

The Voice of Democracy contest, the American Legion speech contest, and the Illinois State contest were the special events in which the Speech Club participated this year.

Promoting student participation in speech activities, the club meets every two weeks with its sponsors, Mrs. Edna North, Mr. Donald Thomas, and Mr. John Curry.

Membership in the club is open to any student who has an interest in speech.

This year there were 25 members in the Speech Club.

Dominic Candeloro, Barbara Slain, Judy Clark, Steve Blucher, Karen Long, Marty Hopkins, and Peggy Wark, enjoy refreshments at the Drama Club's Christmas party.

Acquainting students with the elements of the drama, the Drama Club meets every other Thursday for play readings, pantomime presentations, lectures, and study of staging and sets.

Theater trips to Chicago provide members with opportunities to see actual dramatic presentations, while a Christmas play presented by the group gives a chance to display their talents.

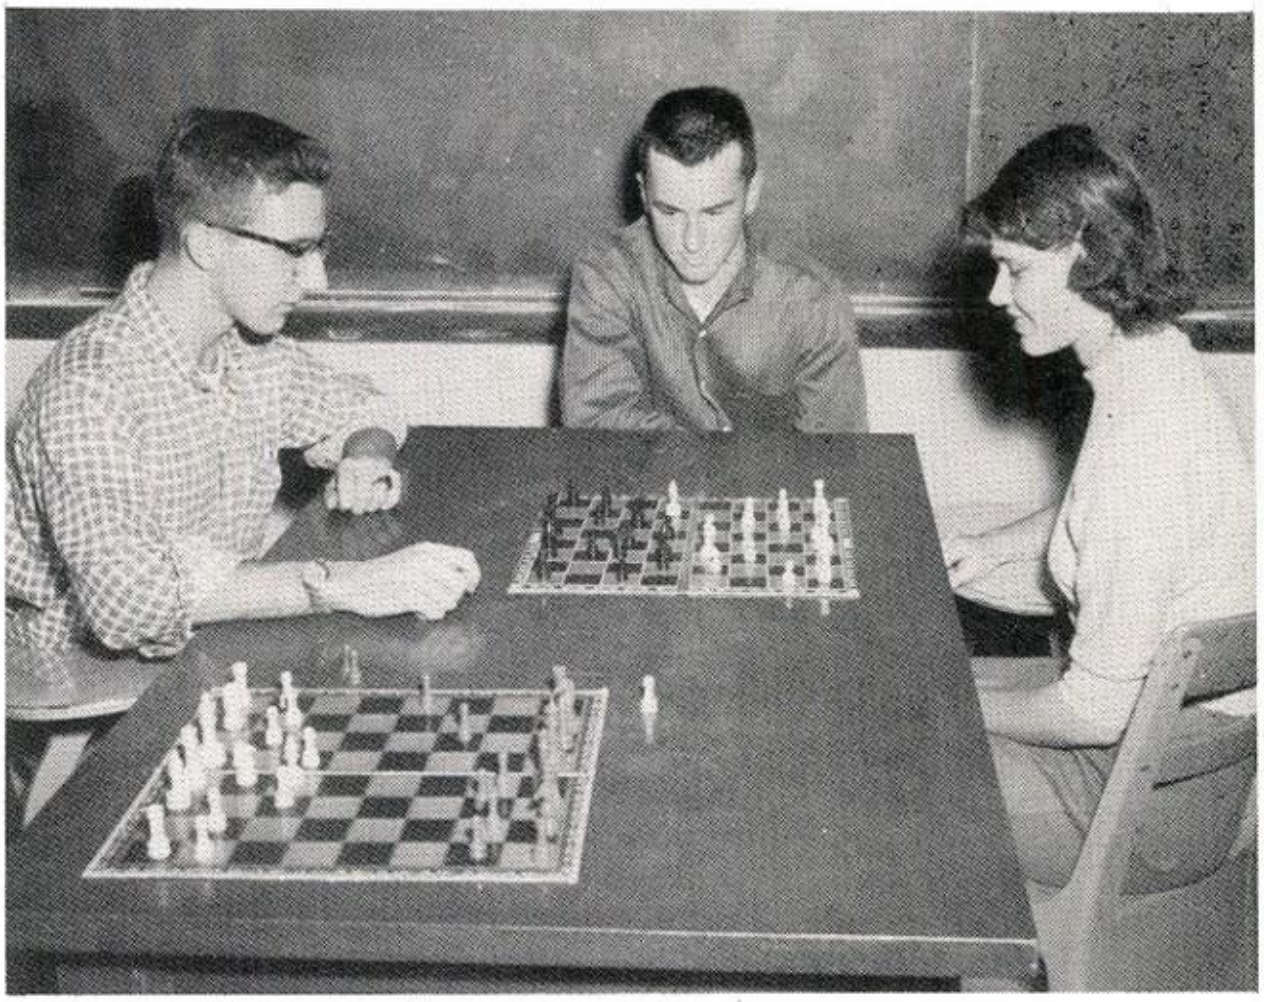
The club, consisting of 140 members, is sponsored by Miss Leitha Paulsen.

Students Increase Skills

Reviving the ancient game of chess, members of the Chess Club meet every Monday night to try to improve their games.

At the weekly meetings members are given set problems to solve. In the spring the Chess Club participates with clubs from other schools in a chess tournament.

The club, comprised of approximately 15 members, is sponsored by Mr. Thomas Hogan.



Pete Lindert, president, officiates a game between Bob Leech and Jane Watkins.

Providing an opportunity for interested students to pursue topics in mathematics not found in traditional courses, the Math Club meets every Thursday under the cosponsorship of Mr. Thomas Hogan and Mr. Robert Andrews.

Keeping the mathematics display case up-to-date is the responsibility of this club. Members of the club make and purchase models to be used in mathematics classes.

The purpose of the club is to create a stronger interest in mathematics.

Joyce Kramer, president, Barbara Vollmer, program chairman, Pete Lindert, treasurer, and Diane Maltby, secretary, view items in math showcase.

Clubs Promote Good Relations

Problems in human relations are discussed periodically when the 14 members of the Human Relations Committee meets.

A trip to a Chicago high school to meet with other human relations groups is one of the highlights of this committee's activities.

The group, which meets at the homes of its members, is sponsored by Miss Margaret Norman.

Learning about the United Nations and the peoples of the world through speakers, debates, games, and field trips, the members of the U. N. Club meet every other Tuesday under the sponsorship of Mr. Gene Kamp.

Highlights of the year include a Christmas party, an educational trip to Chicago during spring vacation, and an excursion to the Indiana Dunes State Park at the end of the year.

Membership in this international relations club is open to any interested Bloom student.

President, Judy Santeford, Treasurer, Fred Carroll, Mr. Kamp, Vice-president, Ida Sievert, and Secretary, Judy Klos, discuss the yearly program.

Amateurs Perfect Techniques

Amateur photographers Bob Heseman, Ken Benni, and Bill Maltby, learn the fine points of printing photos.

Duncan Cooper, Steve Schindel, Allan Kruger, Jim Krecek, and Marvin Rogers learn the technique of radio transmitting.

Developing an interest in the art of photography, approximately 20 members of the Photo Club met each Tuesday afternoon for a program of slides, guest speakers, or instruction on the development and printing of negatives and pictures.

Ordinarily, the group tries to arrange an annual exhibit of national photography and award pictures.

The Photo Club is sponsored by Mr. Marion Hineline and Mr. Manly Tory.

Encouraging students to become "Hams," or licensed radio operators, the Radio Club met every Thursday after school with its sponsor, Mr. Dale Lawton.

An applicant for membership in the club must learn the Morse code, pass a 5 wpm test, and pass a test on basic radio theory.

There were 20 members in the Radio Club.

Students Anticipate

Joan Silberg, Joyce Kozlow, Diane Maltby, and Marsha Steger, officers of the Future Teachers of America Club discuss a problem in teaching.

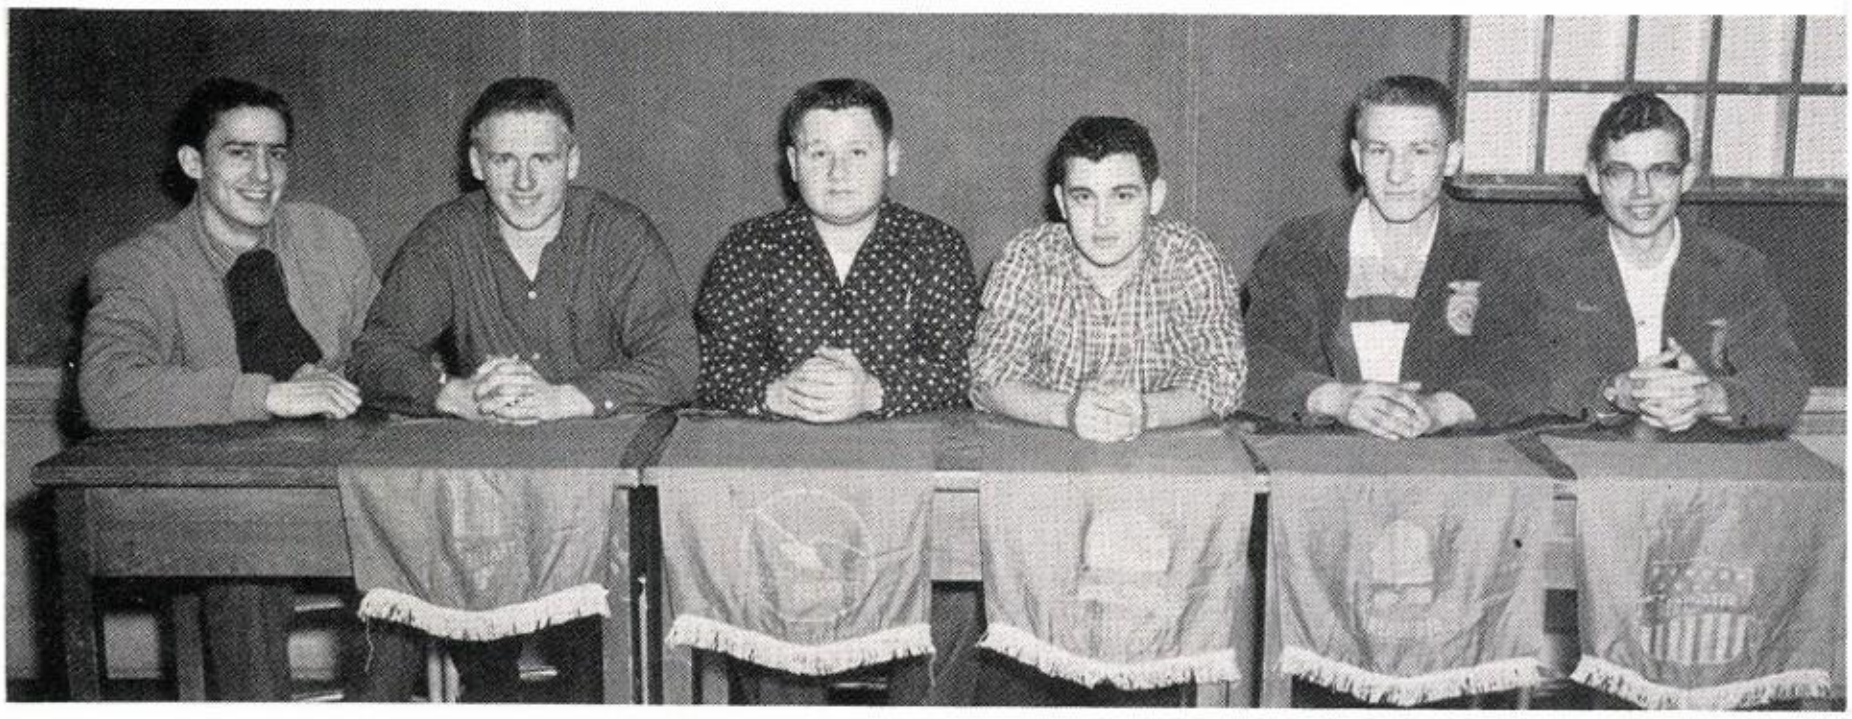
Girls who plan to make teaching their profession find inspiration in the Future Teachers of America Club.

Members of Bloom's chapter of this national organization meet to learn the best way to prepare for their chosen careers.

The club is sponsored by Miss Pauline Douglas of the English department.

Many of the boys who are in agricultural classes at Bloom join the F.F.A., or Future Farmers of America, to learn more of their trade. In this organization, the 33 members are constantly studying different aspects of farming, such as poultry raising, hog butchering, and general care of animals.

The group is sponsored by Mr. Edward Mayhew.



Angelo Rizzuto, James Bussema, Allen Miller, Paul Mergenthaler, Peter Pilockas, Dale Meyers.

Future Careers

An interesting and invaluable activity for junior and senior girls interested in various phases of nursing is participating as a member of the Future Nurses Club.

Under the guidance of their sponsor Mrs. Thelma Crane and their officers, Marion Panici, Barb Theobar, Nancy Marnell, and Pat Morey, the members hear talks by representatives of various hospitals on entrance requirements, duties, and the many fields open to nurses.

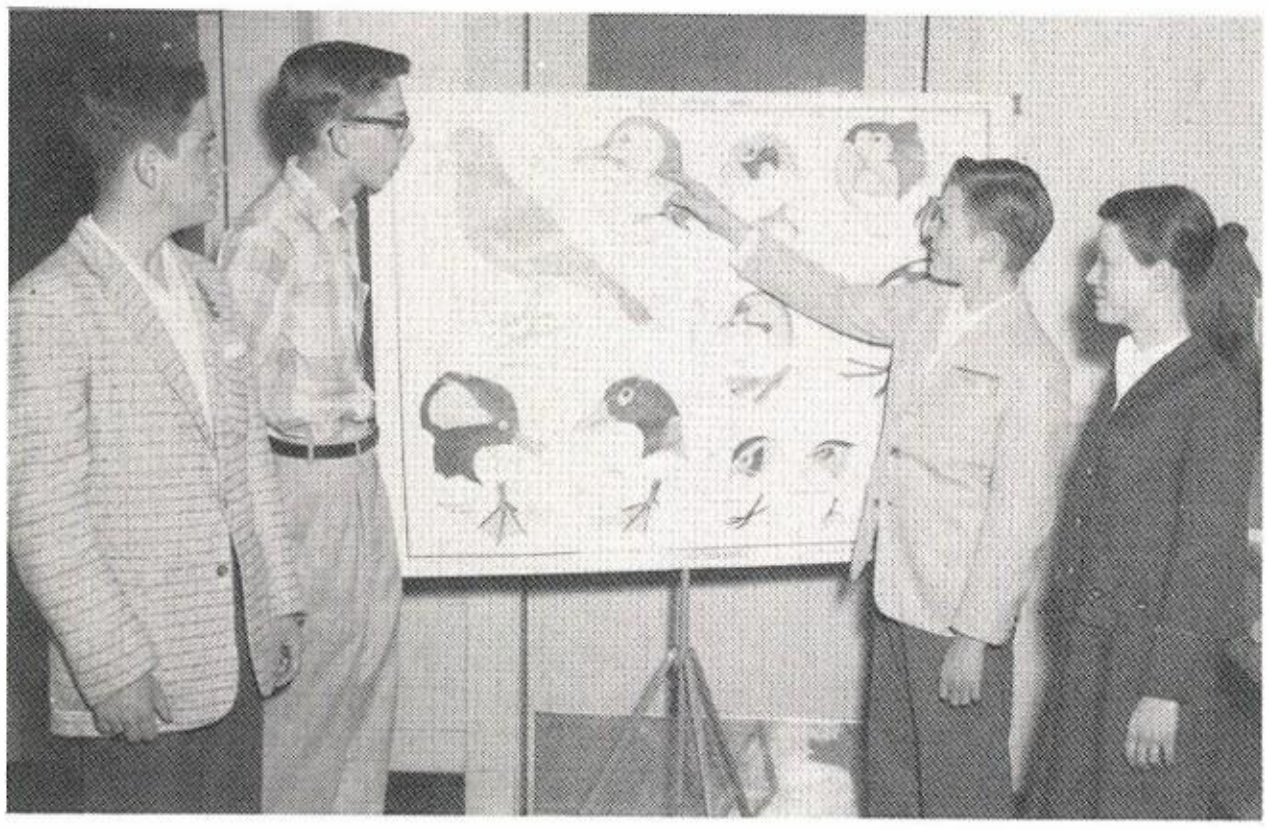
The thirty members meet twice monthly.

Mrs. Thelma Crane, school nurse, conducts a meeting of the Future Nurses Club with officers Nancy Marnell, Pat Morey, Barbara Thielbar, and Marion Panici.

Affiliated with the American Junior Red Cross, the Bloom Red Cross chapter does its part in promoting brotherhood. Under Miss Elizabeth Kelly the club uses much of its time for projects to aid the poor and underprivileged. Sending handmade cards to hospitalized war veterans, making toys for crippled children, and preparing food packets for the needy, are only a few of the worthy accomplishments of the group.

Georgeann Spousta, Caroline Rocha, and Martha Menke, officers of the Junior Red Cross, prepare Christmas stockings for needy servicemen's families.

Naturalists Study Wild Life —



Alan Geary, President, Elmer Lancaster, vice president, Richard Motuelle, secretary, and Barbara Mack, treasurer, learn about birds.

Organized in 1926, the Audubon Club is the oldest club at Bloom.

Meeting every other week under the sponsorship of Mr. Glenn Stehr, members of the club learn about timely biological subjects of interest through films, slides and talks.

The purpose of the Audubon Club is better to acquaint students with birds and animals as friends and neighbors.

Board Plans Entertainment

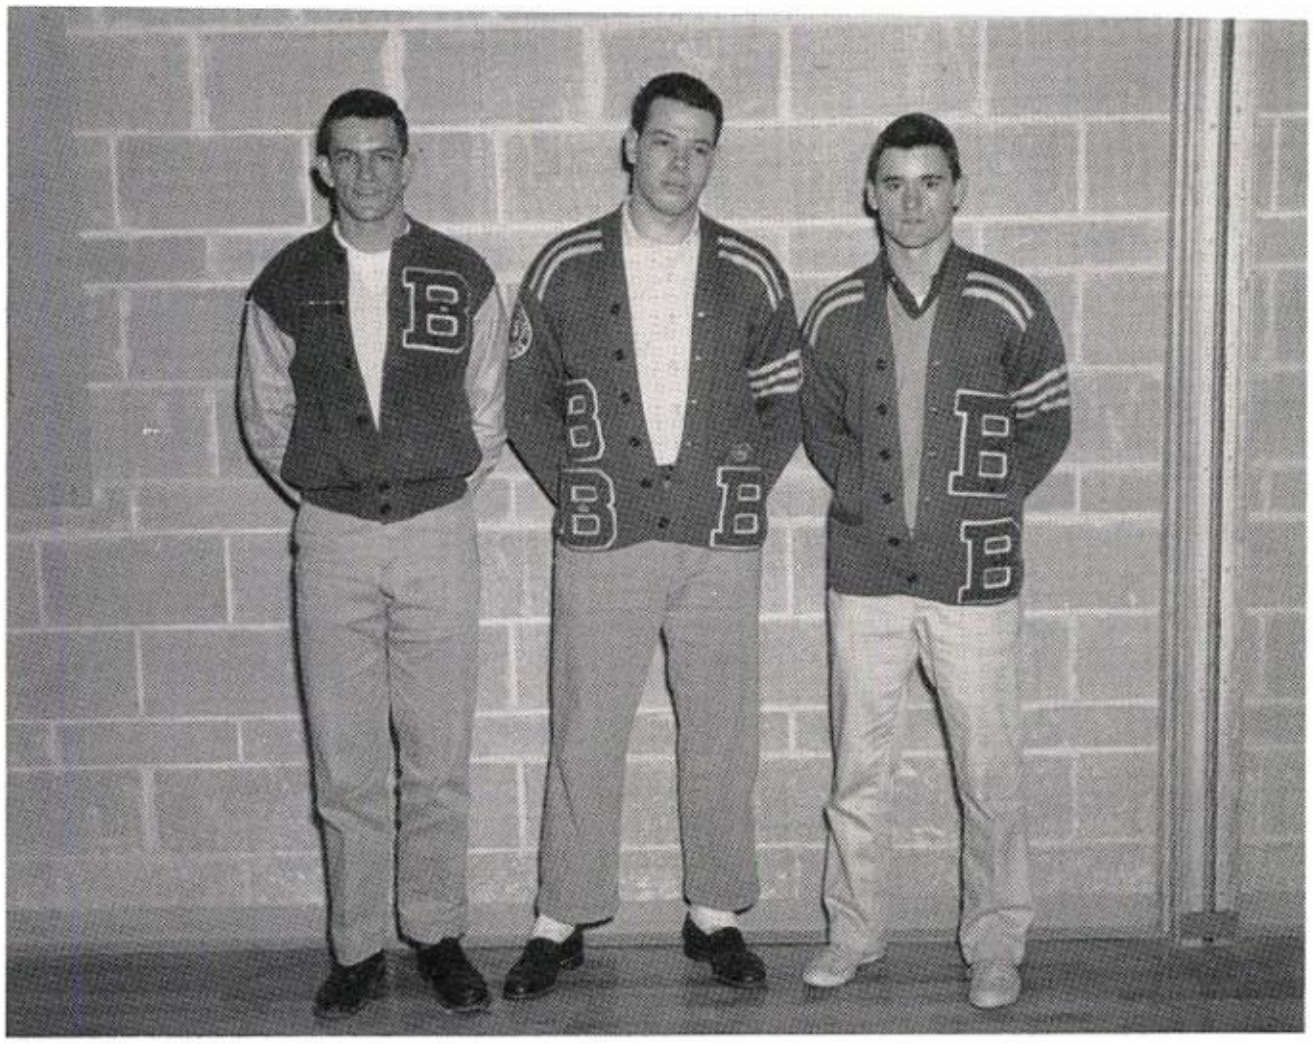
Dancing and entertainment at the Morgue after every game is planned by the Morgue Board, which meets on the first Tuesday of every month.

In the entertainment spotlight at the Morgue are the monthly dance contests, the winners of which receive ribbons. At the end of each semester a trophy is awarded to the couple judged best of the monthly winners.

Twenty-two junior members and ten adults make up the Morgue Board.

Absent: Bonnie Hatfield, Dick Oliver, Eugene Reimen.

Club Honors Top Sportsmen



John Block, Bob Boling, and Bob Seely, officers of the Lettermen's Club, display their various awards.

Receiving a letter at Bloom is an honor gained by showing outstanding ability on one of the many interscholastic athletic teams. Boys obtaining letters are immediately eligible to become members of the Lettermen's Club, an organization dedicated to the bettering of the school.

The chief duty of the club, which is sponsored by Mr. Fred Jacobeit, is u s h e r i n g at important home games and at pep assemblies.

During the holiday season the Girls' League Christmas tree brightens the foyer. Nancy Marnell, Barbara Mitchell, and Gayle Meyers help with the decorating.

Attic Grows into Giant Gym

Athletics has always played an important part in Bloom life. Even when the enrollment was below one hundred, there were active teams to represent Bloom. The basketball games, both intramural and interscholastic, were held in the attic of Old Bloom. Football and baseball games were held on the Chicago Heights baseball diamond. The student body held football and basketball banquets to celebrate the close of a successful season or even a fun-filled mediocre one. Because physical education was recognized as a necessary part of a school's curriculum, the township's voters were always ready to support the construction of more adequate facilities to improve the instruction.

Athletics has progressed as rapidly at Bloom as has any other phase of education. Four building programs have included facilities for its instruction. The latest has been the completion of a modern pool, a fieldhouse, wrestling and gymnastic rooms, and a huge gym, nestling three basketball courts within its walls. Each has its own distinction: the pool with its underwater lighting, the fieldhouse with a Kentucky clay floor, the apparatus rooms that open up into a large handball court, and the gym with the largest folding wooden bleachers in the country. Win or lose, here there is a companionship felt by all, as the picture on the opposite page can testify.

Bloom's new facilities allow all boys to take part in intramural activities such as table tennis. Here the junior doubles championship team of Blum and Durian, on the right, warms up against the second place team of Taylor and Lambotte.

All physical education students have an opportunity to play basketball. These sophomore boys are playing on the same gym floor that the varsity team holds its games on.

The 1957 varsity football squad was the best in Bloom's history. Proof of this statement is in the football record book.

First of all, it was the first team to post a perfect record. Other teams have been undefeated, but this was the first one to be both unbeaten and untied.

The team also surpassed the school and league scoring marks, totaling 265 points for the whole season, and 226 in conference competition. The individual scoring record of 73 was smashed by halfback Leroy Jackson, who tallied for 90 points in league play. In offensive gains Bloom advanced the ball over 3000 yards, while on defense they held their opponents to about 1000 yards.

Further proof of the caliber of the team lies in the fact that six members, Leroy Jackson, Chuck Boling, and Chuck Green, seniors, and Roger Elliott, Homer Thurman, and Leroy Blackful, juniors, were elected to the all-conference squad. Jim Hunter, Bob Boling, Bruce Frobes, Ray Deluca, and Bob Maxwell were given honorable mention.

Also, as expected by most fans, Leroy Jackson was named left halfback on the all-state team. Special mention was given to Roger Elliott, Chuck Green and Homer Thurman, and honorable mention to Chuck Boling.

Head coach of the South Suburban League championship team was C. M. Sarff. He was assisted by Fred Jacobeit, working with the line, and Sam Piazza, working with the backfield.

Sixteen junior lettermen, including most of the powerful line, will return to form the nucleus of next year's championship defending team.

Bolstered by a strong bench, the Frosh-Soph Trojans broke even for the season with a record of 4 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie.

Completely outplayed, East Rockford was the first team to run up against the Trojans, who turned the game into a one-sided affair, winning 18-0. In the following game East Aurora turned the tables by beating the Trojans 12-0. The Frosh-Sophs then played their first conference game against Leyden, getting back on the winning track by an 18-6 margin. The next contest was a scoreless tie with Thornton Fractional, followed by a 12-0 victory over Argo. The next three games were different, as the Trojans couldn't buy a touchdown. The first they lost to Blue Island by a 13-0 score, the second to Thornton, 19-0, and the third to Lockport, 12-0. Finally they found the range and beat Kankakee 7-2.

The Frosh-Soph football coachs for the 1957 season were the head coach, Mr. Nick Colbrese, and his assistant, Mr. Edmond Krumm.

Despite a rather poor record, three losses and two ties, the tiniest Trojans showed great spirit throughout the whole season and much improved toward the end of the year. They held their last two opponents to ties.

In the first game the Trojans were blanked by the Kankakee K's 14-0. Next they took on powerful Leyden and went down in defeat 18-7. The following game was dropped by the same score, this time to Thornton Fractional. The team then stiffened and held Blue Island to a scoreless tie in a great defensive battle. Apparently encouraged by this moral victory, the Trojans scrapped hard against their traditional rival, Thornton, and came out with a 7-7 tie.

The freshmen finished with a total of 21 points to their opponents' 57. Coaches for the Freshman Squad were head coach Richard Jensen and assistants Merle Zeschke and Raymond Lindell.

Tenth in State Meet

The 1957 Cross Country team, under the coaching of Mr. Ralph Steben, scored 261 points to place tenth in the state meet at Urbana last fall. Chico Kennedy, the only senior member of the team, also placed tenth in the field of 200 individual runners. Lynn Griffin, a sophomore, scored twentieth, while Ed West, Jesse Smith, and Gerald Pitts also ran in the meet.

During the regular season Bloom won five and lost three of its meets, placing second in the district. In Cross Country low score wins.

Consistent place winners for Bloom throughout the season were, besides Kennedy, Ed West and Lynn Griffin.

Hoopsters Are Regional Champs.

After two years of greatness, the varsity basketball team finally faced the problem of rebuilding a new squad. Left with Homer Thurman and Chuck Green, who was chosen captain of the new team, Coach Bert Moore used about six other players brought up from the junior varsity and last years frosh-soph to fill out the rest of the team.

The new team ended its 1957-58 campaign with fifteen wins and eight defeats during the regular season. Top scorer for the team was Homer Thurman with a total of 454 points. Next in line was Chuck Green with 349 tallies. Jim Hunter, Larry Brown, and Howard Perkins followed in the scoring column in that order.

The squad finished in the league involved in a two - way tie for third place. In the tournaments, the team battled to a regional championship at Joliet, but was defeated in a sudden death double over-time against Bradley. Just four members of the tournament ten were juniors, Homer Thurman, Bill Woislaw, Howard Perkins and Jerry Vickery. These boys will form the basis of next years squad.

Sophs Share League Crown

The Frosh-Soph basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Bob Rehberg and assistant Mr. Serge Sokol, tied for first place with Thornton and Leyden in the South Suburban race. The squad finished with a 10 win, 4 loss conference record, including two defeats at the hands of Thornton, and one each by Thornton Fractional and Leyden. The little hoopsters out-scored their opponents 950 to 893. Their record against non-conference foes was 5-2.

The high scorers for the team were captain Bill Hunter with 254 points and Sam Mele with 208 points. Two freshmen, Ken Cowles and Ed Didrickson, were moved up to bolster the squad. Both played consistently throughout the season, and Cowles took third place scoring honors with 151 points.

Two of the Trojan's conference losses were in overtime periods. The first was against Thornton, and the second in a double overtime against Thornton Fractional.

Frosh Whip Thornton Twice

Bloom's freshman basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Ed Krumm and Mr. Paul Cosenza, ended its 1957-58 campaign with a record of 14 wins and four losses. The team won seven of its ten conference encounters, scoring a double victory over its perennial rival, Thornton.

The home court proved somewhat of a jinx for the tiniest Trojans. Two of the defeats on their own court were administered by teams they had previously beaten in away games. Their third loss, to Kankakee East, was by only one point, while their fourth was by Leyden, another team they had beaten earlier in the season.

The only player to score in the twenties for a single game was Dennis Kruger, who dropped in 23 points against Fractional and 20 against Thornton. Kruger, a short guard, held high scoring honors for the season with 183 points. H. Lesner and W. Sallis were also consistent scorers on the freshman team.

Seely, Reichert Tops in League

Located in new quarters all its own, and under the guidance of a new coach, Mr. Don Lindell, wrestling approached the status of a major school sport for the first year. An event which brought added interest to the sport was the South Suburban meet held at Bloom. In this meet the Trojans placed fifth in the conference.

The two top individuals for the team were Bob Seely, wrestling at 138 pounds, and Ron Reichert, at 154 pounds. Seely ended the season with a dual meet record of eleven wins and one loss, while Reichert finished with twelve wins and two losses. They were the only two Trojans to reign as conference champs, and along with Mike Prisco, as district champions. From there, Seely went on to win the sectional title and place third in the district finals.

The team finished the season with an overall record of ten wins and four losses. Besides placing fifth in the league, they ended fifth in the District tournament and fourth in the Sectional.

Sophs End 3—3 in Conference

Greatly improved over last year's record of three wins and seven losses, the 1957-58 frosh-soph wrestling team finished its season with eight wins, four losses, and one tie.

After a slow start involving two smashing defeats, the little grapplers perked up to win eight of their next eleven encounters. They placed fourth in the Reavis Frosh-Soph Invitational Tournament. Under their new coach, Mr. John Smith, the squad split even in conference competition, winning three and lossing three.

James Shipp, wrestling in the 120 and 127 pound divisions, was undefeated for the season. Other consistent winners for the team were Ronny Shutz and Henry Bickham.

Not to be outdone by the other sports of 1957, Bloom's varsity baseball team had a great hand in making that year the greatest in the school's athletic history. After dropping two of the first three games, the team swung into gear to win the district and regional championships, and the first round sectional game. Although they were finally defeated in the sectional finals in 13 innings by Proviso, they still ranked among the top 16 teams in the state. Jim Bouton, senior hurler, pitched the entire game against Proviso, who later breezed to a state championship downstate.

After this heartbreaking defeat, the Trojan's completed the balance of their schedule, beating Thornton 10-1 and Fractional 9-1 to clinch the league title.

The great strength of the team was evident in its pitching staff, including seniors Jim Bouton and Jerry Colangelo and junior Bill Reynolds. Throughout the season, the staff allowed only 29 runs, and Bouton pitched a no-hitter against Rich.

Top sluggers for the season on coach Fred Jacobeit's squad were Bob Seely, Bob Maxwell, Chuck Green, and Rich DeMith.

Trojans Repeat as State Champs

Highlighting the 1956-57 sports year at Bloom was the Trojans' capture of the state track championship for the second consecutive season. The thirteen-man squad representing Chicago Heights in the state finals at Champaign last spring scored an astonishing 39 1/5 points, seventh highest total in the 63 years of Illinois Interscholastic track history. Runner-up in this meet was New Trier with only 19 8/15 points. The two outstanding individuals on the team were Fred Macklin and LeRoy Jackson, who were responsible for 21½ of Bloom's points between them. Altogether, the squad took six first places and scored in nine of the fourteen events.

The first District track meet ever held at Bloom was also completely dominated by the Trojans. They took first places in all but one of the fourteen events to run up a score of 92¼ over second place Kankakee, with just 19 points. New records in the 440 yard dash, mile relay, broad jump, and high jump were set, all by Bloom contestants.

The entire year's schedule followed the same pattern for Coach Ralph Steben's varsity team. It completely overpowered every foe it met. After the state meet and climaxing the track season for the Trojans was the conference meet held at Blue Island. Typifying the entire year, the Trojans ran away with the meet and copped the league title.

CONFERENCE MEET

Bloom .....First Place

The Frosh-Soph track team found the 1957 track season one of the most successful in years. The little cindermen completed the season with an unblemished record of six wins and no defeats.

They opened their campaign by conquering a conference foe, Blue Island, 98-1/5 to 43-4/5. Next they took on two non-conference opponents. The first to fall was Joliet, by a score of 74 to 19. Next they downed a strong Dunbar of Chicago, which went down at the hands of the tiny Trojans 89-2/3 to 27-1/3.

Getting back to the conference, they beat Leyden 87 to 31. The final two meets were the most important. In Bloom's triangular the little trackmen beat Rich and Fractional, and in the league meet at Blue Island they copped the conference championship.

Coaches for the Frosh-Soph team are the same as for the varsity, Mr. Ralph Steben, assisted by Mr. Bob Andrews and Mr. George Hamlin.

in First Year of Competition

The completion of the school's new physical education facilities this year brought Bloom a new sport, swimming. The sport was popular from the beginning, with enough candidates for both varsity and frosh-soph teams. The varsity squad finished the season with a four win-three loss record, placing third in the South Suburban meet at Thornton. The frosh-sophs won two of their three meets.

Star individual for the varsity was Dave Gifford, who set a new league record for the 100 yard freestyle, swimming it in 57 seconds flat. Dave also set pool records in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle. Bloom qualified two swimmers for the state meet held at Evanston, Jay Zoll and Dave Gifford.

Under the coaching of Mr. John Prombo, Bloom's 1957 golf team won ten of its sixteen meets. This record placed them third in the South Suburban conference. Four players, Steve Baker, Byron Conant, Bob Austin, and Carl Bjork, were veterans of that season and returned for the 1958 campaign.

Top individual for the '57 season was Ed Menke, a senior. Menke's best score for the season was a 69 at the White Pines course. He also carded a pair of 79's, for a total of 158, at the state meet in Champaign last year. This score ranked him sixth in the state.

Outstanding in the '58 season, besides the four veterans, was Dan Maga, a sophomore. Other players shooting in the 80's were Ron Carroll, Ken Connors, Ronald Vanko, Dennis Gruca, Albert Madura, Nick LoBue, and Tom Kiddoo.

Mr. Serge Sokol was in charge of coaching the sophomores on the squad. For the first year, a meet was held for just sophomores, a triangular with Thornton and Blue Island.

Miss Nancy Gravelot boasts of her archery team's state victory to her fellow physical education instructors Miss Nancy Roos, Mrs. Carol Wallace, Miss Judith Connolly, Miss Liela Veazey, Miss Grace Chynoweth, Miss Lorraine Bechtel, and Miss Roxie Witts as she displays the championship trophy.

Gym Teachers and Girls in Sports

With the completion of the boys' new gymnasium, the girls' gym classes took over what was formerly the boys' area. The addition of the swimming pool made possible instruction in this sport in physical education classes.

Four new teachers were added to the girls' physical education staff this year. These are Miss Lorraine Bechtel, Miss Grace Chynoweth, Miss Nancy Roos, and Mrs. Carol Wallace.

Miss Liela Veazey heads the department. In addition to their regular class assignments Miss Nancy Roos took charge of swimming; Miss Judith Connolly, senior bowling, junior-senior GAA, and golf; Miss Grace Chynoweth, freshman GAA; Miss Lorraine Bechtel, sophomore GAA; Miss Roxie Witts, junior bowling; Miss Nancy Gravelot, archery; and Mrs. Carol Wallace, tumbling.

The expanded quarters meant an expanded physical education program. Five days a week spent in gym classes were required of all Bloom students for the first time this year. This enabled the girls not only to become more skillful in the activities of the department but also to take part in a greater variety of sports.

Judy Petricek, GAA President, presides over a meeting of the organization as the other officers Loretta Browski, Pat Bross, and Sandy McHugh confer. Board members Sandy Grupe, Carolyn Schram, Roberta Hippensteel, and Miss Lorraine Bechtel co-sponsor, Rosetta Merritt, Miss Judith Connolly, co-sponsor, Belinda Palmo, and Peggy Korn. look on.

GAA Educate and Sportsmanship

Always with their goals in mind, the GAA interested girls in sports and at the same time instructed them in the art of sportsmanship. With a host of sports offered, every girl was certain to find the one to suit her. This organization was co-sponsored by Miss Judy Connolly and Miss Lorraine Bechtel.

The freshmen met on Thursday, sophomores on Monday, and the juniors and seniors on Wednesday.

The after-school sports program was not the only activity of the GAA, however. This organization sponsored a Play Day, during the Christmas season erected a tree in front of the library, and also held the annual Christmas party for all Bloom girls. Organizing these events were the officers: Judy Petricek, President; Loretta Browski, Secretary; Pat Bross, Vice President; Sandy McHugh, Treasurer; Sandy Grupe, Sophomore Board member; Peggy Korn, Sophomore Board member; Carolyn Schramm, Junior Board member; Roberta Hippensteel, Junior Board member; Rosetta Merritt, Senior Board member; Belinda Palmo, Senior Board member.

Captain Melanie Donovan exhibits her Bloom spirit as she jumps extra high during a cheer.

"Come on, kids, let's really cheer!" No one who ever attended a football or basketball game will soon forget the pep the cheerleaders had tried to get the students to show at these contests. The squad, headed by Melanie Donovan and coached by Miss Liela Veazey, included Judy Josephson, Lynn Worley, Diane Jendrasek, Sharon Carr, Sandy Waldruff, and Val Schuemann. Thanks to their never-tiring voices the teams took encouragement and showed what they could really do. The presence of these boosters at pep assemblies helped students to recognize their duty to back their teams.

Sport Scene

The Frosh-Soph cheerleading squad gives their "all" to boost the morale of the younger Trojans.

An innovation in Bloom life was seen this year as the Frosh-Soph cheerleadering squad performed its routines at Frosh-Soph football and basketball contests. The squad comprised of Pat Donovan, Elizabeth Hallman, Janice Mascitti, Linda Wilson, and Sue Wolf was coached by Miss Nancy Gravelot. They were captained by Linda Wilson during the football season and by Elizabeth Hallman during the basketball season. The girls' good job was verified by the excellent record of the teams they cheered to victory.

Competing against 33 other schools, the Bloom girls' archery team again captured the Illinois Postal Archery Tournament crown. For the eighth consecutive year these keen-eyed archers shot their way to victory. Not only did the team retain the championship, but also they scored the three highest scores in the state. These top scorers were Pat Bross with 312 points, Diane Salans with 306 points, and Dorothy Huemann with 301 points. The team amassed a total of 1445 points. Other members included Barbara Rossman, Karen Kosmal, Judi Hirsch, Margo Allord, Charlene Ehlebracht, and Marion Panici. Undertaking the coaching duties for this year's champions was Miss Nancy Gravelot.

With the boys' swimming season in full swing, the girls were forced to hold land drills with the promise of the pool after the season's end. All the work and practice culminated in the water spectacular, "Around the World in 80 Days."

Miss Nancy Roos instructed the girls in the fundamentals used in the water ballet they performed.

Two Teachers Increase to 135

A high school was started in this area in 1898 through the efforts of two inspired teachers, Mr. Frederick Schacht, a Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Illinois, and Miss Alice Burchard, a Wesleyan graduate. In 1910 it was organized on a township level.

Between 1902 and 1933 the number of faculty increased from three to fifty-one. In the nineteen-thirties Teachers' and Registration manuals were adopted, complete guides to all phases of administration and teaching. Ten years later 'a woman teachers' co-operative house was remodeled from the old North Hall, and the Teachers' Council was organized.

The school was growing and the future was bright.

In 1947, with the appointment of Dr. Harold H. Metcalf as superintendent, Bloom continued to progress. Immediately after his arrival a complete counseling program was started. The faculty workshop in the fall before school and midyear surveys and meeting were planned to increase the scope of faculty training.

A list of faculty members now totals one hundred and thirty-four. The new physical plant enables the teachers to enjoy their own cafeteria and lounge. The faculty lounge, shown on the opposite page, is furnished for relaxation, and the books and magazines there are available to the teachers during their lunch and conference periods.

Behind the scenes the Board of Education, headed by Dr. Paul Ashley, makes the big decisions which affect the students. The board members sacrifice much of their valuable time to serve long, tedious hours without pay to cope with the many problems arising from a greatly expanded school plant and academic program.

P.T.A. and School Board Plan for Students

The P.T.A. strives to create a better understanding between home and school, through its annual Open House, its monthly meetings, and the visiting day for freshman parents. To aid parents in becoming better acquainted with our educational program the P.T.A. provides a calendar of coming events for the year.

In Memoriam

Mr. Ralph Briggs

People who are greatly loved in this world will always be remembered in the hearts of all their friends. Miss Eveline Callender, speech correctionist, and Mr. Ralph Briggs, former chairman of the Math Department, will leave a permanent mark at Bloom and in the community they served.

Mr. Briggs, a loyal Bloomite and a faculty member for 31 years, was always interested in the ambitions, successes, and failures of each of his students.

Miss Callender had been speech correctionist for the past two years following four years as instructor in English and typing. Her infinite patience and her pleasant smile will not be forgotten by those who were acquainted with her during her short-lived journey through life.

Seven Become Six Hundred

The senior class, long the pride of Bloom, began with fewer than ten students. In the first graduating class in June, 1901, there were seven graduates—all girls. In the early years of Bloom the curriculum varied little for a senior, but activities flourished, nevertheless, because the student body was small and congenial. As the school grew, so did the number of activities. The agriculture building was built by the interested boys of the vocational classes. The P. A. system was installed by the boys of the physics classes. The emphasis of education was placed on the "theoretical, academic, and the bookish."

With a senior enrollment now at nearly six hundred Bloom has much more of which to be proud than ever before. The ratio between boys and girls equalized long ago, to the enjoyment of all. Through the years the educational trend had been from the "theoretical" to the "practical," and the "academic" now includes a much broader area of subject matter.

The new building, much too complex to be constructed or wired by amateurs, has opened new fields for senior activities. The senior class play, for example, will be the first presented in the new auditorium. The ticket booth is shown on the opposite page.

In a classic pose, college bound Herbert Yung mirrors the problem facing all seniors in the same situation. How will he ever get everything packed?

Ronald Ignelzi, president, Paul Clarey, vice president, Janet Graham, secretary, Miss Grace Chamberlain, sponsor, Peter Lindert, treasurer.

Seniors Step Toward Road of Success

The new tomorrow has finally come for the Seniors who have anticipated graduation with eagerness and anxiety. After four years of trials and triumphs the members of the senior class are preparing to take another step along the road to success. This step may be toward further education or to a permanent position in the industrial world.

The progress made by the Class of 1958 is credited to its capable leaders, including Ronald Ignelzi, president, and Miss Grace Chamberlain, class sponsor. The Senior Class Board, comprised of representatives from each senior homeroom, guides class activities.

"Say It With Music," the theme of the annual Mother-Daughter banquet, and the class play, "A Kiss for Cinderella," were the outstanding events of the year's activities.

BLOOM SCHOOL CODE

Underclassmen Spark School

The underclass students have always been the pulse of Bloom. They have been the ones that have made the "Clean-up," Red Cross, and Brotherhood drives a success. They have profited the most from the experiences gathered by their teachers and upperclassmen. When this high school came into existence as a small, village school, only twenty students registered. None came as seniors.

The underclassmen with their zeal and enthusiasm always carried on the traditions of Bloom. It was in the underclasses that the excitement of class and school elections electrified each student. The future of Bloom was influenced by the underclassmen.

The underclassmen, whose ideas and enthusiasms help to mold the life of the school, have increased in number from twenty to twenty-six hundred. Each year the classes have been "bigger and better" than ever before.

It is the underclassmen who will benefit the most from the recent expansion program. The pool will be theirs to enjoy for another year or more. The fieldhouse, gym, auditorium, and new music sections will help to turn those long class periods into moments of enjoyment. Besides the more glamorous additions there are new classrooms for traditional studies, such as the freshman English class of Mr. James Stevens shown on the opposite page.

In the excitement of the Junior Jamboree, Frances Gloss seems in danger of losing her head.

Junior Class

Mr. Prombo, sponsor of the Junior Class, poses with class officers, Homer Thurman, vice-president, Linda Parisi, secretary, Sara Bourque, treasurer, and Mary Prombo, president.

Everybody knows the junior year is the best year. Although the juniors always seem to have the smallest representation on the Honor Roll ("I just failed the physics test" is a familiar cry), they probably have more extracurricular fun than any other class.

Important factors in enjoyment of the year are the juniors' newly acquired driver's licenses. The importance of their treasured documents cannot be underestimated. After all, what could be more terrible than being driven to the Prom by your parents?

The Prom is, of course, the high point of the year, but the Penny Social and other money-making projects also provide hours of fun—and hard work.

So, in spite of physics and American History, the junior year remains the favorite of every Bloomite.

Sophomore Class

Sophomore class officers Jay Zoll, president; Mary Napoli, secretary; Miss Chapman, sponsor; and Carole DeLuca, treasurer, have a bull session.

Julius Caesar . . . the "Sputnik Spin" . . . career notebooks . . . biology experiments . . . these things and many others will be remembered by the members of the Class of '60 when they think of their sophomore year. The year, too, was the first time that the underclassmen had their own cheerleading squad. Under the leadership of the Sophomore Board, the officers: Jay Zoll, president; Carole DeLuca, treasurer; Mary Napoli, secretary, and Miss Chapman, sponsor, the class spent an active interesting year.

FRESHMAN BOARD

Freshmen entered school not knowing what the future would bring. If they could have looked into the future they would have seen Richard Gerardi being elected president of their class after one of the largest campaign turnouts in Bloom's history.

They would have looked forward anxiously to the Freshman Mixer. They would also have known that only a bright future lay ahead under Mr. Ralph Schmidt's guidance.
